THE WEATHER.

U. S. Department of Agriculture,
Weather Bureau,
Toledo, O., July 6, 1892.

There is an area of high pressure central this morning over Ontario, that covers almost three-fourths of the country. The area of low pressure has advanced to the south and east and is central over Montana.

The weather over the entire northern half of the country is and has been fair for the past 48 hours.

Only four stations report rainfall during the past 24 hours and are as follows: Charleston 3.50 inches, New Orleans 1.40, Jacksonville .02, Galveston .40. These rains are the result of local thunder storms.

The temperature has risen or remained stationary in all districts expcet the extreme northwest, where it has fallen about 10 degrees.

Fair weather will prevail over the entire country to-day.

Forecast for Toledo and vicinity, on Wednesday, fair, warmer; on Thursday, fair, continued warm.

Doesn't "look" as she ought—the weak, nervous and ailing woman. As long as she suffers from the aches, pains, and derangements peculiar to her sex, she can't expect to.

But there's only herself to blame. With Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, she's a different woman. And it's a change that can be seen as well as felt. The system is invigorated, the blood enriched, digestion improved, melancholy and nervousness dispelled.

With the "Favorite Prescription," all the proper functions are restored to healthy action. Periodical pains, weak back, bearing-down sensations, nervous prostration, all "female complaints" are cured by it. It's the only medicine for woman's weaknesses and ailments that's guaranteed to do what is claimed for it. If it doesn't give satisfaction, in every case for which it's recommended, the money is returned.

Can something else offered by the dealer, though it may pay him better, be "just as good"?

OAK HARBOR'S FOURTH.

Oak Harbor, O., July 6.—(Special.)—The Fourth of July celebration at Oak Harbor was the largest and best ever held here. There were a great many people here from Toledo and nearly five hundred from Fremont. The Oak Harbor band and the Light Guard band, of Fremont, furnished the music for the day.

The celebration came nearly terminating in a sad accident. A man by the name of Drynen was walking a rope; he had gone half way across the rope and came back and had hardly stepped off when the rope broke. One of his companions caught him and pulled him onto the roof.

ANOTHER CONFERENCE.

Pittsburg, July 5.—To-morrow afternoon the second conference between the wage committee of the Amalgamated association and the iron manufacturers will be held in this city.

It is not thought probable that an agreement will be reached; any other conclusion of the conference would be the greater surprise. Word reached the Amalgamated headquarters this morning that the Detroit spring steel works and the West Duluth Manufacturing company had signed the scale.

A TOWN BURNED.

Pocomoke City, Ind., July 6.—The busines part of this town, the county seat of Worcester, was burned this morning. The postoffice, national bank, Parker house, and 40 business firms were burned out. The loss will be fully $100,000.

Full Details of the Greatest Strike American Toilers Have Yet Had With the People Whose Burdens They Have Carried for Years.

Homestead, Pa., July 6.—"Fort Frick" is in the hands of the enemy. At 4:30 o'clock this morning 300 Pinkerton detectives landed from barges at the Homestead steel works of the Carnegie company. Immediately the army of 5,000 strikers which had gathered expected their landing, broke over the fences and charged upon the invaders. The men were heavily armed and firing began at once. The Pinkertons stood their ground as well as they could before the host, but were forced to retreat to their boats.

At the present time there is no chance of telling how many are killed or wounded, but the volleys from each side were heavy and bodies of the dead and wounded are now being carried out of the enclosure of the works into the houses near by.

At the first fire five detectives were killed and two strikers wounded. The Pinkerton men were secured by the firm after the deputy sheriffs had been run away last evening.

They were loaded into two model barges which were fitted up with berths for the occupancy of the men. The barges were towed by the steamer Tide and were started for Homestead at 3 o'clock.

SHERIFF M'CLEARY.

He Was Cast Aside by the Company for the Pinkertons.

Pittsburg, July 6.—Sheriff McCleary was awakened at 3 o'clock this morning and asked by whose authority armed men were being sent to Homestead by river.

The sheriff replied: "I understood the boat was going up, but it does not go by my authority."

"Then the men are not deputized by you?"

"No, sir."

"It is rumored that you have turned the matter over to the Murphy detective agency. Is that true?"

"No, sir; it is not."

"Your next appeal will be to the governor, will it not?"

"Yes, this matter is assuming a very serious aspect. I will hold another conference in the morning."

The sheriff did not state with whom he would confer. Beyond this the sheriff declined to discuss the matter.

STRIKERS WERE FIRM.

The Pinkertons Opened Fire and Got the Worst of It.

Homestead, Pa., July 6.—The approach of the Pinkertons had been heralded and the steamer had only rounded the corner below the town when a general alarm was sounded and all of the strikers were called out. The men armed themselves quickly and congregated at the river front and about the stockade surrounding and inclosing the works.

The steamer first made as if to pass, but suddenly swung in and reached the bank.

The watchers saw the lines made fast and then the planks were run out and the Pinkertons began to land.

The men had been expecting this and were ready to act. There was no organization, but suddenly the cry rose: "Charge on them."

Instantly there was a rush for the great fence. In a second it was surmounted and the scaling party made access more easy by tearing open the gates. On they rushed, and the army of 5,000 met the Pinkertons at the top of the bank.

"Fire."

No one knows who gave the word, but at it a volley rang out and was returned.

Five Pinkerton men fell dead, while two of the strikers were wounded by it.

The strikers had the advantage of position and poured a fire down the bank into the guards, who did their best to return it with their Winchesters, but could do but little execution and had to return to the boats.

The men soon after withdrew their wounded and at once organized a battalion of 2,000 men and armed themselves with Winchesters. They say they will again attack the works and drive the Pinkertons who have come ashore into the river.

When the boats approached the landing the first man who came forward to disembark advanced with a Winchester rifle, ready to fire on the crowd. As he went to step off he discharged his weapon. This was the signal for a general fight. There was a rapid exchange of shots from both sides. When the smoke had cleared away it was found that the following workmen had been shot:

Wm. Fry, probably fatally injured.
Michael Murray, dangerously injured.
Andrew Sourler, seriously wounded.
John Kane, badly hurt.
Harry Hughes, wounded, and an unknown man who was taken to his home some distance from Homestead, evidently badly hurt.

It is not known just who was shot on the boat, but the number is fully half a dozen. One man in particular was seen to drop as if instantly killed, but whether he was or not cannot be told at this writing.

The boats pulled up to the pumphouse of the works. There they were greeted by the crowd, ready at all hazards to prevent a landing.

FIGHTING FOR BREAD.

Five Thousand Women, Children and Men Urge the Workmen on to Battle.

Homestead, Pa., July 6.—It was seen at a glance when the boat arrived that the men on the boat were thoroughly armed, as the Winchesters were in plain view.

Five thousand men, women and children stood upon the river bank watching the fight and cheering on the workmen in their efforts to prevent a landing by the Pinkertons.

Not a Pinkerton was allowed to come ashore, and the men at 6 o'clock this morning declared none would be allowed to enter the works. There is a very dangerous feeling in the community, and another outbreak at any moment would not be surprising.

The boats are still here, standing out in the river, but it is thought no further attempt will be made to get ashore until the mantle of darkness or the aid of deputy sheriffs affords an opportunity.

The first shot of the engagement came from the barge. It was aimed at a big Hungarian who stood at the water's edge. The ball went wide of the human mark but it was the signal to the Pinkerton men to begin and for a full ten minutes they continued to fire.

TEN ARE DEAD.

The Strikers Will Blow the Pinkertons Up with Dynamite.

Pittsburg, July 6.—9:30—Four of the Homestead iron workers have just arrived at Union station, Pittsburg, and say that there are now five dead on each side and that several Pinkerton men had fallen overboard and it is believed were drowned.

It is also alleged that one of the four men is in the city to secure dynamite with which they will blow the steamboat out of the river.

SENT THEM HOME.

The Workingmen Had No Use for Deputy Sheriffs.

Pittsburg, Pa., July 6.—Affairs at Homestead have assumed an ugly phase, and serious trouble is apprehended. Yesterday H. C. Frick, chairman of the Carnegie Steel company, appealed to Sheriff McCleary for protection, and in compliance with th erequest ten deputies were sent to th escene this afternoon. They were met at the station by 2,000 workmen and quietly escorted to the river, where they were placed upon the steam tug Edna and ordered to return to the city.

Previous to sending the deputies to Homestead Mr. McCleary and ex-Sheriffs Cluley and Gray, as chief deputies, paid a visit to the works. After a thorough inspection of the plant, Chief McCleary called upon the advisory committee of the Amalgamated association and stated that while he did not see any reason to place deputies about the works, he would be compelled to do so. The committee protested against the appointment of strangers, and offered to furnish sufficient men to guard the company's property, agreeing to give bonds in the sum of $5,000 or $10,000 each for the faithful performance of their duties. The chief said he could not accept the offer, and would dispjatch his own men to Homestead.

Immediately upon his arrival in the city, Chief McCleary then posted the following proclamation:

"To whom it may concern:

"Whereas, It has come to my knowledge that certain persons have encouraged that certain persons have congregated and assembled at or near the works of the Carnegie Steel Co. (limited), in Mifflin township, Allegheny county, Pa., and upon the roads and highways leading to the same; that such persons have interfered with the workmen employed in said works, obtaining access to the same; that certain persons have made threats to employes going to and from said works, and have threatened that if the owners of said works attempt to run the same, the property will be injured and destroyed.

Now, I, Wm. M. McCleary, sheriff of said county, do hereby notify and warn all persons that all such acts enumerated are unlawful, and the persons engaged in the same in any way are liable to arrest and punishment; and I further command all persons from assembling or congregating as aforesaid, and from interfering with the workmen, business or operation of said works, and in all respects to preserve the peace and retire to their respective homes and places of residence, as the rights of the workmen to work and the right of the owners to operate their works will be fully protected; and in case of failure to observe these instructions, all persons will be dealt with according to law.

WM. M. McCLEARY,
"Sheriff of Allegheny County, Pa."

After the departure of the sheriff the advisory committee disbanded as an organized board of control as the members said they would not be responsible for what might follow the appearance of armed deputies upon the scene.

What followed the arrival of the deputies is told above. When the men had disposed of them they tore down the sheriff's proclamation.

The excitement in the town to-night is intense. The men are very bitter and in a threatening mood. It is reported that another posse had been ordered to the city, but up to midnight they had not arrived. To-morrow the men will go into court and ask that Chairman Frick be restrained from taking measures that will result disastrously to the quiet and peace of Homestead. This is an entirely new feature in labor troubles, and the action of the court will be awaited with interest. Telegrams were also sent to the sheriff to-night, begging him not to send any deputies, as they were not needed.

The Appeal of Mr. Frick.

"Pittsburg, July 4, '92.

"Wm. M. McCleary, High Sheriff of Allegheny Co., Pa.:

"Dear Sir—Will you please take notice that at and in the vicinity of our works in Mifflin township, near Homestead, Allegheny county, Pa., and upon the highways leading thereto, from all directions, bodies of men have collected, who assume to, and do, prevent access to our employes, and egress from our property, and that, from threats openly made, we have reasonable cause to apprehend the attempt will be made to collect a mob and to destroy or damage our property aforesaid, and to prevent us from its use and enjoyment. This property consists of mills, buildings, workshops, machinery and other personal property. We therefore call upon you, as sheriff of Allegheny county, Pennsylvania, to protect our property from violence, damage and destruction, and to protect us in its free use and enjoyment. (Signed)

The Carnegie Steel Co., Limited,
By H. C. Frick, Chairman.
Carnegie, Phipps & Co., Limited,
By H. C. Frick, Chairman.

MOST BRUTAL SCENES.

Men Shot Down While Picking Up Their Fallen Brothers.

Homestead, Pa., July 6.—The first man to fall was Martin Merry, a heater in one of the mills. He was shot in the left side and fell face downward on a pile of ashes. Close behind Merry stood a Hungarian. He stooped over Merry's prostrate body, and as he was in the act of raising him he staggered and fell by the side of his comrade.

This bloody spectacle roused the drooping spirits of the crowd and with a hoarse cheer a dozen men rushed to the place where Merry and the Hungarian laid. They picked up the bodies and carried them behind the trestle. One of the rescuers, a Welshman, who refused to give his name, was shot in the left leg just as he raised Merry's head from the ground. Merry and the Hungarian were carried to Dr. Purman's office and after a hasty examination he announced that both men would probably die.

RESULTS OF THE STRIKE.

The World's Fair May Be Greatly Inconvenienced.

Chicago, July 6.—The lockout in Carnegie's Homestead, Pa., mills may result in a postponement of the dedicatory exercises of the world's Columbian exposition in October and a like delay in the opening of the exposition proper. Twelve miles of elevated railroad for the interior of the grounds cannot be furnished until the settlement of the difficulties in the east. Union men do not believe that workmen at the fair grounds would put in place material made up by non-union men. There is no prospect of an early settlement of the strike and fears are expressed that the big exposition may suffer on account of Carnegie's uncalled for lockout of his men.

SOME OF THE INJURED.

Mike Murray, a Base Ball Player, Among the Dead.

Pittsburg, July 6.—Six of the wounded men were brought to the Homeopathic hospital about 9 o'clock. Among them were F. H. Hinde and A. W. Cline. Mike Murray, previously reported injured, is dead. He was a roller, aged 26, single, formerly a base ball player.

Cline is shot in the head, will probably die.

SECOND BATTLE.

The Captain of the Pinkerton Boat Shot Dead

Homestead, July 6.—8:15 a. m.—A second battle occurred between the Pinkertons and workmen a few minutes ago.

The captain of the steamer Little Bill, which carried the Pinkerton men to the works, was shot dead.

MANNED A CANNON.

Union Workingmen Determined to Stand by Their Cause.

Pittsburg, July 6.—9:40—One of the morning papers bulletins the following:

Homestead, July 6.—9 a. m.—The iron workers have just trained a cannon upon the boat on which the Pinkerton men are. Should any attempt be made to land, the cannon will be discharged at close range.

BURNING OIL.

Strikers Fighting the Workingmen's Devil with Fire.

Homestead, Pa., July 6.—10 a. m.—The strikers have poured oil into the river above the steamboat and barges and have ignited the oil. The boat is retreating.

STILL SHOOTING.

The Fence Around Fort Frick Has Been Fired.

Pittsburg, July 6.—9:45—Word has just reached the sheriff's office in this city that the great fence about the works has been set on fire. The second shooting was at 9 a. m., and still in progress. The cause of the second battle was attempt to land the barge.

FOUR MORE DEAD PINKERTONS

The Firing Continues—The Barge Attacked from Both sides of the River.

Homestead, July 6.—Firing is now almost continuous. At this hour (9:20) both sides are resting, but it is thought it will be but a few minutes until the battle is renewed. About 9 o'clock a general fire took place, the strikers attacking the barges from both sides of the river.

It is said that four Pinkerton men were killed in the last scrimmage, and that their bodies fell from the barge into the river.

George Retter, a prominent citizen, had his thigh shattered. The names of those killed this morning are Henry Stringel, John Wallace and Foy.

It is stated that the captain of the Pinkerton detectives and five of his men are dead. Eleven men have been carried from the river bank badly wounded.

A cannon has been planted on the river bank and will be brought to bear on the Pinkertons.

The burgess has issued a proclamation calling on all citizens to remain indoors and ordering all saloons closed.

BARGES ON FIRE.

The Pinkerton Men Surrounded by a Roaring Conflagration.

Homestead, Pa., July 6.—The barges are strewn with dead and dying and the river is stained with blood. The detectives are still desperate, but unable to escape. About 10 o'clock a raft of logs and barrels of oil was set on fire half a mile above the barges and started down the stream. This means that the barges and their human freight will soon be in flames.

Silas Wagner, a striker, has just been shot dead. His body was carried down the street by his brother. The sight greatly added fire to the general indignation.

The barges are now on fire.

Four thousand men, the majority of whom are armed, are now in possession of the Carnegie steel company's works, determined to prevent the landing of the Pinkerton men. The town is literally besieged and throughout the morning the roar of cannon and the firing of guns has stirred the citizens to the highest pitch of excitement.

SYMPATHY FOR THE STRIKERS

Grand Army Men Turn Their Guns Over to the Workingmen.

Pittsburg—11:20—Vice President Carney, of the Amalgamated association, telephones the United Press that the Homestead lodges of the G. A. R., Sons of Veterans, and Hibernian rifles, have turned all their arms over to the strikers.

He also says that there are now en route for Homestead two cars of guns and ammunition and during this afternoon 3,000 men will be fully armed and equipped.

STATE AID ASKED.

Governor Pattison Appealed to by Sheriff McCleary.

Pittsburg, July 6.—The following telegram was sent to Gov. Pattison:

"The situation at Homestead is very grave. My deputies were driven from the ground and watchmen sent by mill owners attacked. Shots were exchanged and some men killed and wounded. Unless prompt measures are taken to prevent it, further bloodshed and great destruction of property may be expected. The striking workmen and their friends on the ground number at least 5,000, and the civil authorities are utterly unable to cope with them. Wish you would send instructions at once.

(Signed) W. H. M'CLEARY,
Sheriff.

A WAR TO DEATH.

The Gunner Shot Dead While Firing at the Barges

Homestead, Pa., July 6.—At 10 a. m. the chief leader of the workmen, accompanied by a reporter, went to the front of the line of battle. The main fight was at that time near a huge oil tank on the river front one mile from Homestead. Here the reporter saw one of the workers breath his last. The man was standing near the B. & O. railroad tracks firing a 20-pound cannon, trying to sink the barges on which were the Pinkertons. His shots went wide of the mark. A moment later the mill worker's head was almost severed from his body by a shot from a Winchester rifle in the hands of a Pinkerton.

ASKS FOR AID.

Superintendent of the Poor Farm Gets Excited.

Pittsburg, July 6.—Superintendent Linderman, of the city poor farm, near Homestead, telephones the chief of the city fire department that the strikers have stored quantities of oil near the city farm pumping station; that the buildings in which are several hundred inmates are in imminent danger. He asks that a fire engine be sent up at once. The request will be complied with.

INSIDE THE FORT.

Workingmen Get Behind the Breastworks.

Pittsburg, Pa., July 6.—A telephone message received at the headquarters of the Amalgamated association pictures the situation in a nutshell. The speaker said:

"The men are drawn up in line in the mill yards and the barges are out in the river. The second battle is ended."

HEMMED IN ON ALL SIDES.

Pinkerton Men Seem Doomed to Certain Death.

Homestead, July 6.—10:15 a. m.—Hemmed in on all sides, the Pinkerton men at this hour appear to be doomed. The steamboat that towed the barges up the river has disappeared.

The cannon planted on the opposite shore is being fired every few minutes with terrible effect.

THE BARGES.

Instead of Being Hotels They Proved to be Morgues.

Pittsburg, July 6.—The two model barges in which the detectives were conveyed to Homestead are somewhat different from the ordinary coal barge, in that the top and sides are enclosed. The barges are about 125 feet long and 20 feet wide and are fitted out with cots and kitchen and dining tables.

RETREATING.

Pinkertons Reported to be on Their Way Back to Pittsburg.

Homestead—11:10—The Pinkertons have withdrawn from the scene, and are now on their way back to Pittsburg.

WHY CAMPBELL RESIGNED

Philip D. Armour Did Not Want Him to Work

For a Party That Cost Him $100,000 in a Year.

Armour Has Been Classed as a Republican, but he Will Vote This Fall for Grover Cleveland.

Washington, July 6.—Many reasons have been assigned why Chairman Campbell refused to run the campaign for President Harrison this fall. The chief reason, however, was because Philip D. Armour, who pays Mr. Campbell $25,000 a year for his services, objected to Mr. Campbell taking the place.

Mr. Armour is a strong Cleveland man, although his tendencies are republican, and he has generally voted the republican ticket. This year, however, he will vote for Grover Cleveland, because the tariff on tin plate cost him an extra $100,000 last year, and the great packer doesn't like it at all.

When Mr. Campbell left Washington he was inclined to take the chairmanship. The position suited him and he felt the honor that had been conferred upon him. He rode in the train from the national capital to Chicago with National Committeeman Payne, of Wisconsin, who was very anxious Mr. Campbell should accept. Mr. Payne is very close to Armour, having done business of various sorts for him in Wisconsin, and he was of the opinion that he could overcome any objections Mr. Armour might have. Mr. Campbell was not so sure, however. When the two gentlemen arrived in Chicago they took a carriage directly to Mr. Armour's office. The packer was not in a good humor when Mr. Campbell asked him if he had any objections to his taking the chairmanship.

Mr. Armour said he had and emphasized his objections in a way not to be misunderstood. He told Mr. Campbell it was to his interest to retain his position as attorney for the Armour interests. Mr. Campbell and Mr. Payne then left.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Preparations for the Meeting in New York.

Thousands of Delegates Already on Hand and More Coming.

New York, July 6.—Thousands of delegates to the societies of Christian Endeavor, which meets to-morrow, have arrived in the city. Over 15,000 have already been assigned to various hotels and boarding houses and 15,000 more will be assigned to-day. In all nearly 30,000 delegates will participate in the proceedings of the convention.

Among the prominent delegates are the following representative names:

Sumantrao Vishner Karmarker, Bombay, India, now attending Yale college; Dr. Eddy, a female missionary from Syria; Merrill E. Gates, president of Amherst college; Francis E. Clark, president of the convention; Rev. Joseph Cook, Rev. Dr. Wayland Hoyt, of Minneapolis; Hon. John Wanamaker, Rev. R. H. Conwell, of Philadelphia; Rev. Leroy S. Beane, Maine; R. R. Murphy, of Philadelphia; Rev. Dr. Josiah Strong, New York; Rev. Dr. Charles F. Deems, New York; Rev. J. A. Tyler, Cincinnati; Rev. Dr. James L. Hill, Boston; Rev. Dr. T. S. Hamlin, Washington; Rev. J. J. Buckley, Philadelphia; Rev. H. C. Farrar, Montreal; Bishop Samuel Fallows, Chicago; Rev. W. J. Danby, Indiana; Rev. A. J. Turkle, Omaha; Mrs. Francis Willard, Oregon; Rev. Charles A. Dickinson, Boston; Rev. A. Phillips, Toronto; Rev. Levi Rees, Indianapolis; Rev. W. H. McMullen, Allegheny City; Rev. C. W. Brokaw, Springfield, Mass.; Prof. W. W. Andrews, New Brunswick; Rev. Charles P. Mills, Newburyport.

WANTED TO CELEBRATE.

But Evidently Did Not Know How.

A Young Man Blows Himself Into Another World With Dynamite Cartridges.

Cambridge, O., July 6.—As Cambridge was closing up a grand celebration of the Fourth of July, thousands of people were crowded in the public square and along East and West Eighth and Mill streets, bounding the square, witnessing the grand pyrotechnic display that was being given from a platform erected at the middle of the street crossings, while rockets, candles and bombs were being exploded from all directions. Fred Albright, aged 24, unmarried, probably with the idea of outdoing the efforts of all the other celebraters in the boom racket, stepped into Ormes' hardware store and purchased four half pound 60 per cent. dynamite cartridges and came out into the middle of Main street and lighted the fuse to explode one.

It exploded in his hands and the other three went off in his pocket at the same time and blew his body to atoms. The force of the explosion knocked out the plate glass fronts of both Ogiers' drug and book store and Orme's hardware store, on the south side of Main street, and the plate fronts of Shroyer's grocery store, Moses' barber shop and part of Brown's grocery, on the opposite side of Main street.

Fragments of the body were found plastered to the walls in the rear end of these store rooms, and on the fronts of the adjoining buildings. A lady was sitting on a chair in front of Ogier's drug store watching the fireworks.

As soon as she had recovered from the shock she made an effort to get up from her chair, and discovered that the intestines of the dead man were wrapped around her feet. Just how an explosion of such terrible force could take place in a crowd of that size without killing and mangling scores of people is a mystery.

[illegible] FOR A LYNCHING.

A Mob [illegible] Negroes Made Trouble in Florida.

Jacksonville, Fla., July 6.—Shortly before midnight last night a mob of 700 negroes marched to the Duval county jail in squads. They were all heavily armed and immediately took up positions about the various entrances to the prison. The negroes claimed that they received positive information that the whites intended lynching a negro confined in the jail who is charged with having murdered a man last Monday.

The jail officials quickly notified the governor and orders were at once issued to have several companies hold themselves in readiness.

The companies assembled at the armory with Capt. Turner in command. The negroes sent a committee to the armory to confer with Capt. Turner. The captain assured the colored men that there was no danger of a lynching and advised them to go home quietly.

At 12 o'clock last night the troops were ordered to march to the jail, where they are now stationed. When the negroes saw the soldiers they scattered, taking up positions in groups in the vicinity of the prison.

At midnight everything was quiet, but it was feared there would be trouble this morning.

KILLED HIS MAN.

A Deliberate Murder at Stuartsville.

James Lawson and Harry Scouten Have Words and the Latter is Killed.

Findlay, O., July 6.—(Special.)—Two oil men quibbling and quarreling over some trifling tools used around oil wells, resulted in a cold-blooded murder one mile west of Stuartsville on the Nickel Plate road, just north of this city, last night.

The murderer, James Lawson, cruelly shot down Harry Scouter with a 38-calibre revolver, which he purchased at Stuartsville.

The murderer is still at large with a large posse in hot pursuit. Both men being hot tempered was the cause of this sad ending.

They had a fight in the morning, caused by Lawson accusing Scouten of stealing his tools and abusing him. Scouten stood it a while, but finally turned in and gave Lawson a sound whipping which resulted in his life paying for it.

The dead man's little 5-year old child stood by and saw his father shot down, not realizing what he was witnessing.

The murderer is about 37 years old and of English descent.

Scouten was very popular among his fellow workmen and was considered a peaceable, quiet citizen.

The murder has caused great excitement and is the chief topic of conversation all over the city this morning.

ENGLISH ELECTIONS.

Stanley Defeated for a Seat in Parliament.

London, July 6.—The polling in the 23 London districts yesterday is recorded amid an incessant downpour of rain, making all external electoral display impossible. In reviewing the result of the whole, the liberals may congratulate themselves upon an increase of the numerical minorities in the London districts, where they are again defeated, and upon two signal triumphs.

Nothing stirred the pulse of the national liberal club last night like the news of the rejection of Richard Chamberlain, Islington. Richard had contrived to acquire such a load of individual dislike that the liberal club men rejoiced in his defeat almost as a personal matter. Members leaped into the air in ecstacy and hurrahed themselves hoarse of having got rid of an obnoxious personality in parliament and inflicted a blow on the hated enemy.

Henry M. Stanley's defeat was taken more quietly. Neither conservatives nor liberals believed that he would be successful. Stanley alone was confident.

While jubilant over some of the outstanding results, the liberals have no reason to boast of brighter prospects. Their defeat in Perth, where two contending liberals enabled a unionist to head the poll, and the loss of Scarborough, Barrow in Furness, Wolverhampton and West St. Pancras have further checked the expectation of a sweeping party majority. The loss of West Wolverhampton is attributed to the spread of free-trade views, and it is probable that other manufacturing centers will be similarly influenced. Among seats the liberals were confident of capturing were Chelsea and St. Helen, and the loss of these causes keen disappointment.

The day's gains and losses are equal, each side having six gains and six losses. The laborists made a poor show, their candidates being at the foot of the poll in three contests.

Elections were held in 65 boroughs and divisions—16 in London, 37 in the provinces, 8 in Scotland and 4 in Ireland. The aggregate of the polling up to date was: Unionist, 441,041; Gladstonians, 439,612; independent and labor, 11,266.

RAILROAD EXTENSION.

Wauseon, July 6.—(Special.)—The Wabash extension is being rapidly pushed toward the west line of Fulton county, and though the officials are as mum as clams as to whether or not it will be extended to Toledo, developments in the last few weeks point strongly to the speedy extension of the road through here and to Perrysburg.

HANGED BY A MOB.

Wheeling, W. Va., July 6.—Jones, the negro who murdered Mr. Tierney, was taken from jail at Weston, W. Va., and hanged by a mob early this morning.

COL. WIGGINS SAYS

That Toledo Will Have a Fine Show Shop.

The Colonel Knows What He Is Talking About, as He Put Barnum in the Business Long Ago.

Col. E. W. Wiggins was in town yesterday, and his broad expansive smile was only eclipsed by the ten karat diamond that sparkled in his shirt front. The colonel is hale and hearty and of Herculean proportions, but he has got the idea into his head that he is going to die of consumption. The colonel is a land mark in Detroit, and will probably be as well and favorably known here, as he is general manager of Moore's entertainment enterprises, and will have a good deal to do with the new Wonderland theater and museum that is to open here for five years on Summit street, near Madison, August 29th.

The Luce building has undergone a transformation on the interior, and in consequence Toledo has another theater, one of the cosiest, prettiest and most convenient in all its appliances in the state. The theater has been built in the rear of the first floor. It has wide approaches, handsome waiting parlors for ladies, a large stage, four boxes and orchestra chairs for 560 people. The decorations will far exceed anything in the city.

The various floors are being put in shape. On the second floor, which is to be the curio hall, another smaller stage has been erected for such exhibits as will require it. The Eden Muse of wax works will be on the third floor, and will equal, it is said, the exhibition of the same character in New York. Col. Wiggins says it is going to be the finest show shop in the country.

The entire front of the building will be painted in white and gold, and a marble and tiled front will set back 20 feet from the street.

Bert Davis will manage the Toledo Wonderland, and will move from Detroit to Toledo with his family.

KANSAS DEMOCRATS.

They are in State Convention at Topeka.

A Problem Confronts the Party—Delegates Divided on the Fusion Question.

Topeka, July 6.—So far as its influence on national politics is concerned the democratic state convention which meets here will be a much more important gathering than the republican convention. There will be just as deep interest taken in it throughout the state, for upon the result of its deliberations will depend largely the success of the two tickets already placed in the field.

There will be no fight in the democratic camp as to who the party candidates will be. That is a secondary consideration, to be decided in the event that the faction which has organized to force an indorsement of the people's ticket from top to bottom fails to carry the convention.

The democratic leaders find themselves with the balance of power and a critical condition confronting them. There is a strong following which believes that the indorsement of the people's state ticket will forever disorganize and disrupt the party, but with the exception of a few strong democratic clubs in the cities, no attempt has been made to keep the party organization intact. More than 50 per cent. of the democratic voters are openly acting with the people's party either through a fusion on county tickets or an unconditional surrender. These democrats look for no offices in the event of national democratic success and the arguments which influence the leaders and will probably control the convention have no effect whatever on the great mass of the democratic voters. The old party leaders who wish to preserve an organization contend that the nomination of an independent state ticket will materially assist in casting the entire democratic vote for the people's electoral ticket, and will beyond all doubt throw this state out of the republican electoral column. If this can be accomplished the leaders contend that the party has favorably commended itself to the national leaders should Cleveland be elected, and that the small vote which might be cast for the state ticket will in no way stand in the way of political preferment for loyal Kansas democrats.

The platform adopted by the republican convention has given the fusionists the excuse for unconditional surrender to the people's party they sought. It was an open admission that the republicans must depend upon reclaiming the farmers who had gone off with the new party in order to achieve success and is more objectionable than the people's platform.

The indications are that the democratic convention will be the most largely attended in the history of the party and a harmonious session can hardly be looked for. The middle of the road democrats will come prepared to wage war on the old leaders whom they hold responsible for failure of the party to grow.

The democratic conventions held Saturday show the effect of the open snubs given the democrats by the people's party. The Fifth congressional district will come to the convention practically solid against any fusion on the state ticket. John Davis is very objectionable to the democracy of the district and here the middle of the road democrats have their strongest following. Dickinson county democrats nominated a straight ticket Saturday for the first time in three years and Clay county elected delegates to the state convention instructed against fusion. Saline county is overwhelmingly opposed to indorsing the people's state ticket and Washington, Republic and Cloud counties are also reported for straight democratic nominations.

The Second district democrats feel very sore over the failure to nominate Moore at Garnett, but there will be a number of Second district delegates favoring an indorsement of the people's ticket.

The Third district democrats were conciliated by the nomination of Hudson for congress, and will want to indorse the people's ticket, and the Fourth district will be divided.

A resolution introduced in the Shawnee county convention Saturday, instructing the delegates to vote for an indorsement of the people's state ticket, was defeated, but a majority of the delegates elected favor it. The following resolution, introduced by C. K. Holliday, jr., was unanimously adopted:

Resolved, By the Shawnee county democrats in convention assembled, that we hereby heartily indorse the nomination of Cleveland and Stevenson as the national standard-bearers of the democratic party, and that we hereby pledge ourselves to take the electoral vote of Kansas out of the republican column.

The big delegations will show a majority for indorsing the people's ticket, but will be divided. Their voice will depend upon the conferences held before the convention assembles. No estimates as to the strength of opposing factions can be made, but there are determined leaders on both sides, and a bitter fight is certain to follow. Bailey Waggener and Tom Fenlon want the people's ticket indorsed, and David Overmeyer favors the nomination of a straight ticket. John Martin and ex-Gov. Glick have gotten together in better fighting order than ever before and favor a partial indorsement.

HEAVILY SENTENCED.

Vienna, July 5.—The miners convicted of having caused the explosion and fire, which destroyed over 300 lives in the Birkenberg silver mine at Przibam, Bohemia, have been sentenced. Kriz, who threw the burning lamp wick, which fired the inflammable gasses, was sent to prison for three years; Kaborde, who took part in the affair, received a sentence of two years, and Havelka, equally complicated, but who gave information to the authorities, was sentenced to imprisonment for 18 months.

COMMENCEMENT AT BILLVILLE.

Commencement's come at Billville—the girls are in the show,
A-smilin' an' beguilin' in a maze o' calico;
An' they're signin', speecrifyin—got the reins without a check,
An' the boy is still a-standin' on the usual burnin' deck!
An' Mary's got her little lamb—as gentle as a shoat,
An' not a single drum is heard—not even a funeral note;
An' Iser's rollin' rapidly—you almost see it shine,
An' some are born at Bingen—at Bingen on the Rhine!
They're goin' like two-forty—the town can't get to sleep,
For Pilot, 'tis a fearful night, there's danger on the deep;
And Curfew shall not ring to-night—they've sworn it, and they knew!
Commencement's come at Billville and the girls are in the show!

MARRIAGES IN CHINA.

The Presence of the Groom Unnecessary—Reasons for Divorce

Love and romance play little part in the marriages of China, according to the Ostasiatischer Lloyd The Chinaman who enters the harbor of matrimony looks upon the matter as the fulfilment of a duty which he owes his ancestors.

"The custom of the Chinese," continues the journal, "to marry off their sons and daughters at an early age does not seem advisable to the Europeans. It is also the rule in China that unions only take place between families of equal social and financial standing Disregard of this rule would cause subsequent trouble invariably. The custom of early marriages is founded moreover, on principles incomprehensible to the western mind. The boy and girl joined in wedlock do not form a new family, but rather the youngest branch of the family tree, upon which they are henceforth dependent. The duty of parents toward their sons does not end with their marriage; they are obliged to care for them after that time also. There is a great disadvantage in this system. The son, being under the eyes of the parents as long as they are alive, really never becomes independent. All members of a family live, when possible, under one roof, and even after the death of the parents the sons continue, as a rule, to live together in the family home. When the father dies the oldest brother assumes his place as the head of the family, and when the mother dies the wife of the oldest brother takes her place. But, again, the system has many advantages. As the girls are married very young, they are unacquainted, as a rule, with the duties of a housewife. But, in entering the households of their fathers-in-law, they learn the needful lessons in family economy.

"It is nothing rare," adds the paper, "for boys 12 to 14 years old to marry. The physical, moral and intellectual development of the contracting parties has nothing whatever to do with the matter. Other considerations entirely regulate the affair. An old Chinese aphorism says that the 'great business of life is ended' when the sons and daughters are married. The Chinese parents do not care to run the danger of postponing the marriage of their children, especially of their sons, until after their own death.

"A Chinese engagement dates its beginning from the exchange of red cards between the parents of the contracting parties. These cards in many districts are immense documents almost the size of a horse blanket. They are important for the reason that they are used as evidence in case of disagreement in the future. We seldom hear in China of broken engagements. Yet if a quarrel cannot be settled peaceably recourse is had to the law, and the judge usually imposes a fine upon the party who has broken the contract.

"The chief incident in a Chinese marriage is the arrival of the bride in her bridal clothes before the house of her chosen one. That is a de facto fulfilment of the contract. The wedding day is determined by the parents of the groom. The imperial calendar names the lucky days, and on such days the so-called 'red celebrations' take place, both in the city and country. The same bridal clothes may be used several times. In districts where it is customary to celebrate the weddings in the forenoon the weddings of the co-wives take place in the afternoon or in the evening. The Chinese thus hope to make them less important. That the chief part of a Chinese marriage is the arrival of the bride at the house of the groom is illustrated again by the fact that the sons are often married without being present at their own weddings. It is not believed to be fortunate to change the wedding day when once decided. If the future husband, therefore, happens to be called away on the wedding day the marriage takes place by sending the bride to his house.

"Chinese law recognizes seven grounds for divorce from a woman—childless, improper conduct, neglect of the parent of the husband, a tendency to steal, jealousy, and incurable disease. A natural consequence of the importance attached in China to male heirs is that, where they are absent, the husband marries a co-wife. This, however, is not general, and is limited to families of wealth. The bad results of the system are recognized by the Chinese themselves. The practical Chinese, therefore, have adopted a more simple way of obtaining heirs—the adoption of children who belong to side branches of the family. In this way the family line is kept intact. In the absence of male descendants in the side branches of the family, the sons of strangers are adopted. The Chinese prefer this method to marrying second wives."

ABOUT LIFE INSURANCE RISKS.

Some medical examiners are likely to be too severe and to refuse risks on what turn out to be very trivial causes, says an old insurance man. A man was rejected recently on the ground of a defective lung, for which he was rejected by another examiner over 15 years ago. The mere fact of his living 15 years and putting on flesh all the time would seem to disprove the first rejection at any rate, but he was rejected a second time, partly because his insurance record was not a good one, a rejection at any time militating very much against future acceptance. Some men take rejection very hard, indeed, in this particular instance the man seemed broken-hearted, although he had lived long enough to prove the folly of a similar sentence of death a short lifetime before. It is not to be expected that sound companies will accept risks without examination, but I think the time is coming when a man's mode of life and his general good health and activity will be looked upon as an equally good criterion as the number of points that can be scored in an examination by a physician who perhaps never saw the applicant before in his life.

CAPT. HEINDS' STORY.

The Battle as Seen by the Leader of the Pinkertons.

Pittsburg, July 6.—Capt. F. H. Heinds, who is now at the Homeopathic hospital with a badly wounded leg, describes the scenes of the boats passing up the river and of the futile attempts to land the men. "When we reached the B. & O. bridge above Glenwood," he said, "the time was about 3 a. m. There was just daylight enough to show that there was a heavy fog, which obscured the river banks, but we could hear shouts and calls of men, women and children on the Homestead side. As we neared the works, firing commenced from the bank and a rattle of discharging firearms was like the whirr of bees.

The boat in the center of the two barges steamed up to the Pittsburg, McKeesport & Youghiogheny railroad bridge at the steel works and then backed down to the landing. When the barge next to the shore swung in, one of our men and myself threw a plank ashore. The firing had then ceased and we could by this time see swarms of people crowding from the tall bank right down to the water's edge. As soon as the plank was thrown ashore, Kline, in advance, and myself started down the plank. Kline reached the shore and I saw him scuffling with some men. Then the firing commenced and before I had taken two steps on the plank I received a shot in the leg and fell on the plank with my shoulders on the deck. After the boat pulled out and steamed to Port Perry, where we were placed on board a B. & O. train and brought to this city."

THE VICTIMS.

Partial List of the Killed and Wounded Workmen.

Pittsburg, July 6.—1 p. m.—Following is a list of the casualties among the workmen so far as known:

Killed—John Morris, shot through the center of the forehead; married; no children; was employed as heater.

Henry Striegel, 21 years old, killed by a ball in the neck; numarried.

Markowsky, Hungarian, laborer, shot in breast.

Andrew Striegel, shot in chest.

Martin Foy, heater, married; leaves five children.

Reuben Forrest, shot through the heart.

Silas Wagner, shot through the breast.

Injured—Miles Loughran, shot through legs and hip; cannot live.

Joe Sitta, shot through legs; not dangerously hurt.

Martin Murray, shot through legs; will recover.

THE ALARM.

How the Striking Leaders Were Called Out.

Homestead, July 6.—Hugh O'Donnell, one of the most conservative men here, was seen by a reporter. When depicting the early morning scenes he wept as numbers of men gathered around to hear the story. It certainly was a sight as the cannons and guns pealed forth their thunder. O'Donnell, summoning up sufficient courage, said: 'At the first shrill of the water works whistle a messenger rushed to my house and dragged me out of bed. In a half dressed condition I rushed to the scene and on the way met Capt. O. C. Coon, of the Eighteenth regiment, and John Flinn. With these men we went right to the front, standing on the river bank with 3,000 men, who were shouting and yelling and eager for the fray. I could scarcely be heard. Capt. Coon then took an elevated position and with all his strength shouted to the men: 'For God's sake put down your guns and look to the protection of your families.'

GATHERING ARMS

And Ammunition for the Strikers' Army—A Tempory Hospital.

Pittsburg, July 6.—Dr. J. Osborne's house has been turned into a hospital. Up to noon he had treated ten badly wounded men who were brought from the Homestead riots.

Ammunition is being gathered by men on all sides. Firearms of all descriptions and variety have been secured and forwarded to the rioters.

After receiving the governor's reply to his first message, the sheriff said: "I believe it would be suicide for me to take my men there. We could not cope with 5,000 men, and I will do nothing until I hear from the governor. I expect a reply soon and will then know what to do. I think the governor will at once come on, and I hope for good results from his presence."

FLAG OF TRUCE

Run Up by the Besieged Pinkertons.

The Pinkerton men have run up a flag of truce on their barges, but it is not recognized by the workmen on the shore.

GENERAL REVIEW

Of the Exciting Scenes at Carnegie's Mills.

Pittsburg, Pa., July 6.—Early this morning 300 Pinkerton men who had arrived in Pittsburg from the east, were marched to the Monongahela river, loaded on barges and shipped to Homestead.

The news spread rapidly and when the tug Tide, towing the barges, arrived at Homestead, there were 5,000 people waiting to meet them. It was exactly 4 o'clock when the steamer and barges were sighted by the watchers gathered on the river bank a mile below the town.

Directly the fleet was sighted three messengers, each mounted on a fresh horse, started for Homestead, shouting as they went in advance of the barges. Some one notified the engineer at the electric light works and for a second time the harsh voiced whistle sounded the general alarm.

The people responded with wonderful alacrity. There were old men and young men, elderly women, mothers with their babes in arms and any number of children.

The moment the people on the bank caught sight of the flotilla a crowd of them made a break down the road toward the works.

When the head of the line reached the City Farm fence which has been built out several feet into the water, 50 men or more used their shoulder as battering rams, and almost in a twinkling had battered down the barrier. Once through the fence the crowd poured along the steep embankment skirting the river fence on the Carnegie company, and despite the mud and the uneven character of the ground, they made rapid headway.

It was a strangely silent crowd.

Few words were spoken and these sprang from the lips of the women, who were apparently as anxious to participate in the conflict as their husbands, brothers and sons.

From Homestead to the pump house is a good two miles, but all things considered, these half dressed men and women made the journey in record-breaking time.

Once there they gathered in one solid mass, the women, or at least the most of them, on the outskirts.

The front rank of this solid wall of humanity stood at the very water's edge and every moment the crowd grew in numbers and determination.

Slowly the Tide brought her silent consort down the channel. Just below Pimick bridge she partly turned her prow towards the shore, and then amid the shrieks of steam whistles and angry groans and hisses from those gathered on the banks, the occupants of the boat stripped for action.

Each one of them was armed with a Winchester rifle and each rifle loaded to kill.

Slowly the boat edged towards the landing and when the keels of the barges grated on the sand the grim faces of the invaders were within a few feet of their opponents gathered on the shore.

There was one instant of awful silence, and then a bright flash announced that the first shot of the battle had been fired. The firing soon became general on both sides.

At first the workmen retreated, and for a moment it looked as if they were completely routed, but the men quickly rallied and although they retired from the immediate vicinity of the boats, they held their own, and by sheer weight in numbers compelled the deputies to proceed with caution. Up to this time no one had attempted to leave the boat, but suddenly fifty or more of the invaders attempted to jump ashore. The strikers responded with a sharp volley and so thick and fast came the bullets that the detectives retired to the semi-shelter of the lower deck. It was in this attempt to force the fighting that the Pinkerton men sustained their most serious loss. Their captain was one of the wounded.

ANOTHER BATTLE.

Lively Shooting all Morning—Attempt to Fire the Barges

Homestead, Pa., July 6.—At 10:15 a. m. near the lavatory one man aimed his rifle and the next instant a shout went up and a Pinkerton detective, who had been standing on the barge fell. The bullet had passed though his head and he dropped in the river, never to rise.

The locked out men had gained entire possession of the company's lavatory and in this their ammunition is stored. The workmen have at least 500 rifles in their possession. At 11 o'clock the men reported that they were out of ammunition and a committee was sent after more.

At 11:30 the Little Bill, which had towed the barges to Homestead was seen coming down the river, a large United States flag flying from the masthead. The appearance of the boat was the signal for renewed activity, both on and off the barges.

"She's coming to take the barges away," was the cry.

As the boat came nearer it was seen that she carried a squad of armed men who were lined up inside next the Homestead mills. When opposite the converting department the men on the boat opend fire on those on shore.

For ten minutes firing continued, the Pinkertons on the barges joining the men on the boat in the shooting. The men on shore returned the fire from behind the furnace stacks, which they used as a shield.

So warm was the fire from the shore that the men on the boat were driven to cover.

Several of them were seen to fall, and it is certain that they were wounded. No one on shore was injured.

The Little Bill made an attempt to tie up with the barges, but this was futile, owing to the shower of bullets from the shore, and the tow-boat passed down the river, leaving the occupants of the barges in very uncomfortable quarters.

The attempt to set fire to the barges did not prove successful by the raft process, and another attempt was made. From the converting department to the edge of the river, where 40 barges are moored, runs a switch. On this was run a car filled with barrels of oil, lumber and waste. To this a lighted torch was applied and the car cut loose. The flames sprang up a distance of a hundred feet, while great volumes of smoke rolled heavenward.

The crowds on the hillsides overlooking the scenes sent up a lusty shout as word reached them of the intended burning of the barges and all on board. The car of fire rushed down the steep incline in the direction of the barges and the men on the barges watched its approach with blanched faces.

Just then the steamer Little Bill pulled in between the barges and the shore but on reaching the water the car of fire came to a stop. The heat, however, was was intense and the little steamer was soon smoking hot. All this time a continuous fire was kept up and it is estimated that 1,000 shots were exchanged during this brief engagement. For some unknown reason those in charge of the cannon on the opposite shore did not fire a shot during the battle.

The steamer Little Bill which had evidently received a fresh supply of ammunitio nand reinforcements of Pinkerton men continued down the river. An effort will be made to have those on board placed under arrest when the boat reaches lock No. 1. A 10-pound cannon has just been planted at the main entrance to the mill. The situation is quiet though the battle is likely to be renewed at any moment.

Lieut. Col. W. C. Connelly, jr., the only staff officer of Gov. Pattison's staff in Pittsburg, had not, at 1 o'clock this afternoon, received any communication from the governor.

SHERIFF GRAY

Considers the Situation as Terrible—Constant Firing

Pittsburg, July 6.—Ex-Sheriff Gray returned from Homestead at noon. He describes the situation as terrible.

A rumor was in circulation that he had sworn in all the Pinkerton men as deputy sheriffs. This he denies. Col. Gray says the strikers fired on the Pinkerton men first and that a constant volley was kept up from Six Mile ferry until the boat landed.

APPEAL TO THE GOVERNOR.

The Sheriff Says He is Utterly Unable to Cope With the Mob.

Pittsburg, July 6.—In answer to the governor's message Sheriff McCleary sent the following:

"The works at Homestead are in the possession of an armed mob. They number thousands. The mill owners this morning attempted to land a number of watchmen, when an attack was made on the boats and six men on the boats were badly wounded. A number of men on shore were killed and wounded, how many cannot say. The boat later came down stream and was fired upon from the shore and the pilot was cmpelled to abandon his position. I have no means at my command to meet the emergency. A large force of men will be required, and any delay may lead to further bloodshed and great destruction of property. You are therefore urged to act at once.

(Signed W. H. M'CLEARY,
Sheriff.

Saying Nothing.

New York, July 6.—At the Pinkerton agency in Exchange Place, this city, all information relative to the Homestead troubles was refused this morning. Manager Loader declined to talk upon the subject, saying he had as yet received very little news of the riot. He thought, however, the telegraphed reports were greatly exaggerated. The 300 men sent to Homestead by the Pinkertons were mostly New Yorkers.

Many Killed.

Pittsburg, 1:20 p. m.—(Bulletin)—The Times posts a Homestead bulletin to the effect that 38 men have been killed.

To Investigate.

Washington, July 6.—Representative Caminetti, of California, has introduced a resolution for the appointment of a committee to investigate the strike at the Homestead mills.

NEWS IN MARINE CIRCLES

What is Going on in the Lake Ports.

The Wage Question Still on in Chicago.

Vessel Passages Through the Straits and Rivers—Cargoes and Freight Rates.

Chicago, July 6.—(Special)—Capt. Hayes, of the schooner Narragansett, went up into the Lake Carriers' shipping office yesterday afternoon to see about securing a non-union crew for his vessel.

He was followed into the office by a very nicely-dressed, but muscular, coarse man who stepped in between the captain and Shipping Master Biemel and offered to furnish the captain with a crew.

The shipping master thought this was undue interference with his business, and asked the man who he was and what was his business. The answer was a very curt one, and contained something about "scabs," whereupon Biemel charged the man with being a walking delegate of the Seamens' union, and ordered him to leave the office.

He refused to go, and made a motion as if to strike Biemel, and the latter then seized his long, solid rubber billy and used it vigorously about the man's head and shoulders, driving him from the office and from the building. Biemel says he has no doubt whatever that the fellow was a walking delegate, and says they will all receive the same sort of reception whenever they dare to invade his office.

Whistle Nuisance.

Citizens of the north side yesterday sent a communication to the police complaining against the captains of steamers blowing their great horns off the harbor at night for tugs. It was explained that of course they could not and would not object in cases where the craft are in distress and could not object to the ordinary signals for tugs, but they did most emphatically protest against a steamer blowing repeatedly, and continuing the noise for more than an hour, as was done after midnight Monday night, when the craft was not in distress and was whistling for a particular line of tugs and refusing to take other tugs which had offered themselves. It was suggested that if these noisy masters were arrested and fined now and then it would have a wholesome effect.

Cleveland.

Cleveland, July 6.—Not a single Escanaba boat was offered on the market this morning, and the feeling is again very strong. Shippers who got some Escanaba tonnage yesterday at 70c, and a very good supply of Ashland boats at $1.10, had expected to see a steady market this week, but they may yet be compelled to pay 75c on a few cargoes. Coal cargoes are strong and active.

A TIE-UP.

Buffalo, July 6.—Large lumber fleet is in port and a tie-up ordered by the shovers' union last night, will cause bad delay and if not immediately settled may cause a strike all over the lakes. Vessel owners will make propositions for settlement to-night. Coal freights are quiet and unchanged. Charters—Emery Owen, Rhodes, Duluth, 35c; Tice, Kingfisher, Knapp, Green Bay, 60c.

Duluth.

Duluth, July 6.—One vessel was chartered at 3 cents for wheat to Buffalo, but shippers are holding off and making lower bids. Much complaint is made against Buffalo scale. Two whalebacks unloaded there recently were short 320 and 109 bushels.

Chicago.

Chicago, July 6.—With few boats ready to load grain to-day and shippers not wanting many, the rates were easy and unchanged all around. Vessel agents had no idea that lower figures would be paid.

LOCAL HAPPENINGS.

Lucas county officially reports 669 saloons to the state auditor.

Volunteer post meets this evening at headquarters in the Pythian castle.

Sarah Smith, of Toledo, was yesterday granted a patent on a cooking utensil.

It is expected that the Walbridge Nasby building will be ready for occupancy early in August.

A day or two has elapsed since the filing of a new suit in the street railroad controversy.

Miss Annie Nostrant suffered a broken arm last night by being thrown from a buggy, on the East Side.

Gotlieb Schmidt was sent to the Lancaster reform school by Judge Sala on a charge of petit larceny.

There were no responses to the invitation for proposals for the Lagrange street engine house property.

V. Platz, the drummer of Wolf's band, has been presented with a handsome metal duplex drum by his friends.

Reduced rates will prevail on the railroads for the races in this city next week. A crowd of horsemen are expected.

Fresh oysters and poultry, lobsters, soft chell crabs, clams and all kinds of resh fish. Superior Fish & Oyster Co., 125 Superior street.

Secretary Crane is hustling to make a success of Toledo's red ribbon meeting at the Expo grounds July 12 to 15, and he will undoubtedly get there all right.

Gov. Chase, of Indiana, conducted the funeral services of the late trainmaster, C. F. Wilcox, at Peru this morning. The remains will arrive over the Wabash this afternoon for interment.

Judge Pike has been appointed as acting treasurer of the Ohio Yacht club, vice Charles Klauser, resigned, and members can settle their dues with the Judge at his office on Superior street.

Mr. Charles W. Selner will address a mass temperance meeting at Memorial hall on Sunday night at 8 o'clock, subject, "Don't." Prof. A. F. Myers will have charge of the music. Everybody is invited.

Last night's party at Air Line Junction K. P. hall was a pleasant affair. The officers were installed, after which dancing was indulged in, and light refreshments were served during the evening. There was a good attendance.

An error was made in last evening's Bee in giving the number of excursionists carried on the steamer Wallace on the Fourth. Over 1,200 enjoyed a ride on the steamer up the river. A trip on this popular boat is one of the pleasant things to be enjoyed by Toledoans and visitors this season.

LOYAL MINERS.

They Tear Down the Emblem of Anarchy,

And Hoist in Its Place the Stars and Stripes—Exciting Time at Bower Hill.

Pittsburg, July 6.—At Bower Hill, a mining town a few miles from Pittsburg on the Pan Handle railroad, Monday, 25 Hungarians, Poles and Germans gathered in the public square and ran the red flag to the top of a 25-foot pole.

No one knew the object of the men until they saw the emblem of anarchy floating in the breeze. The men who raised the rag began cheering and singing songs insulting to Americans in general.

The news of the affair spread throughout the town. This was more than the American miners could stand, and one who took the lead raised a band of 20 men. Forming themselves into a company and armed for action, they marched to the public square.

When the anarchists saw them coming they fled to the woods, leaving their flag at the top of the pole.

The Americans expected a fight, but the anarchists gave none. The field being clear, the American miners soon tore the red flag from the pole and ran up the stars and stripes. The red flag was then trampled in the dust and torn to shreds. A guard was then appointed, which acted as a protector of the American flag until this morning.

How's Your Liver?

Is the Oriental salutation, knowing that good health cannot exist without a healthy Liver. When the Liver is torpid the Bowels are sluggish and constipated, the food lies in the stomach undigested, poisoning the blood; frequent headache ensues; a feeling of lassitude, despondency and nervousness indicate how the whole system is deranged. Simmons Liver Regulator has been the means of restoring more people to health and happiness by giving them a healthy Liver than any agency known on earth. It acts with extraordinary power and efficacy.

NEVER BEEN DISAPPOINTED.

As a general family remedy for dyspepsia, Torpid Liver, Constipation, etc., I hardly ever use anything else, and have never been disappointed in the effect produced; it seems to be almost a perfect cure for all diseases of the Stomach and Bowels.

Forced Tribute

The trouble at the Carnegie mills in Pittsburg is lightly passed over by the republican papers. It is unfortunate that the labor trouble is precipitated at this particular time, just after the highest convention of the republican party has pronounced the operation of the McKinley law entirely satisfactory and materially beneficial to the industrial classes.

Unfortunate, also, that the man who precipitates the trouble is the chief representative of the protected class, Andrew Carnegie, who contributed one hundred thousand dollars to elect Harrison in 1888, and whose reward was higher tariff and fat government contracts. This man must stand as the type of his protected class. His methods must represent the notion of forced tribute from the masses. His embattled works, where fighting has commenced, must be the standard of the law enforcement which President Harrison indorsed and which is made party doctrine.

What does labor think of Candidate Harrison's protected protege, Andrew Carnegie? This man of millions says he made every dollar of his money from the laboring men in his employ. He has pet notions of the relations between capital and labor which he has printed in magazines and repeated in after-dinner speeches. The country is amazed at the difference between his preachment and practice. Men are not only locked out of his mills, but the works are guarded by soldiers, fortified by electricity and hydrants of boiling water to be opened upon the thousands who have made him rich.

Dispatches say fighting has commenced at the Homestead mills and that the lockout is on to stay. It means loss of time, work and money, destitution, and perhaps starvation, for many hundreds of honest employes. To Carnegie, who is protected by the McKinley law, enriched by the McKinley law, favored by President Harrison, the trouble means very little. Government contracts are under way, soldiers will awe the multitude and the profits will continue.

This is the lesson of high taxes for the industrial classes to study this campaign. The opportunity of encroaching upon the right of labor is made easy by the law which the protected barons bought of congress for personal gain. What Carnegie has done, and is doing, may be done by other men. The law is theirs, was made for them, and in the name of protection they are fooling labor, trifling with the public and imposing upon the country.

So grossly offensive are the Carnegie methods that even that republican master leader, Gen. Clarkson, is incensed to protest. He calls upon the protected millionaire to put in practice his professions of regard for the laboring classes. Professions are cheap, very cheap, but coming from the man who put up money to elect President Harrison for personal profit, the public understands what a hollow mockery is the laudation of protection that operates against the masses.

Upon the McKinley law Carnegie stands.

Upon the same law Harrison stands.

Upon the same law the Homestead fort stands.

Upon the same law Carnegie's men are distressed.

Upon the methods of Carnegie, and the operation of the law Candidate Harrison must make his campaign, and stand or fall upon the record.

Campbell Quits

The attorney of P. D. Armour, whom Candidate Harrison selected to manage the republican campaign, has quit. He will do nothing for the candidate or the campaign. The sudden announcement has an explanation which forcibly explains.

Armour is an immense consumer of tin. The McKinley law has advanced the price of tin plate, and his personal tribute to the men who bought the advance of congress is $100,000 for the year ending June 30. This tax example has converted Armour, and, though a republican, upon the tariff question he is a supporter of Grover Cleveland. Therefore it does not comport with his ideas of the eternal fitness of things to have his attorney lead the Harrisonian committee of high taxers. Mr. Campbell has quit. Others are quitting. The people very generally will quit Mr. Harrison in November.

Comments of the Republican Press on the Carnegie War.

Not in the history of the country has there been so momentous a struggle between labor and capital as is on in the Pennsylvania iron and steel manufacturing regions to-day. It is war to the knife and the knife to the hilt between the employers, the treasure in whose coffers can scarcely be counted, and the employes who have been the chief object of republican "protection" for a quarter of a century! And whom the Pinkerton police are "guarding" to-day as a result of that "protection!" For the sake of these poor toilers, the country has borne the burden of extra taxation. The solicitude of the protecting republicans is exhibited in the interest they evince in the war at Carnegie's armed and garrisoned fort. A cluster of their able comments on the situation is presented below. The Bee exchange editor has searched diligently these many days with the following result:

The Boston Journal says:

The McKinley law reduced the duty somewhat on a class of their products, making a readjustment of the wage scale necessary. If so slight a reduction creates such disaster, what would be the result of a general scaling down of tariff duties?"

The Pittsburg Leader says:

For the sake of the republican national ticket will not the Pennsylvania iron and steel manufacturers forbear insisting on a pauperizing reduction of wages? There can be no doubt as to the workingman's honest belief that the republican party keeps up his wages and that if his wages go down while a national campaign is in progress the republican party is to blame for breaking its pledges.

This list might be indefinitely extended. Its significance is apparent to the most prejudiced beholder. The high-taxers in the name of protection to labor have no use for object lessons.

Nothing else is so important to living, in the home, the school room, the office and the shop as proper heating and thorough ventilation. To provide these necessaries of life requires inventive genius and large experience. To steal the ideas, plans, devices and apparatus of one who has converted the fruits of a life of application to the success of perfection is a crime in morals and an offense in law.

This is a concise statement of facts relative to the controversy in the Toledo board of education about purchasing furnaces for warming and ventilating school rooms. Col. Isaac D. Smead has perfected a system by his own hard work and with his own money. A rival firm that appropriated his ideas, plans, devices and even stole his literature, offered inferior stuff in competition with his superior work and attempted to bulldoze its job through the board. The scheme failed and merit won. The contract was awarded to Col. Smead last night.

This is a matter of gratulation, not because Mr. Smead resides in Toledo, but because his apparatus leads the world. In that feature Toledo feels an honest pride. This subject needs no elaboration. The Toledo board of education drew the line between legitimacy and piracy.

The organs are charging that the third party is "simply a democratic annex." Well, that is giving the old party that these republicans have made funerals over several times, credit for pretty lively work: being able to run a campaign of their own that makes the factions of the republican party hustle, and manage a great big affair like that at Omaha at the same time. If it makes it appear "an annex" for democrats to endorse the same principles of right and justice that are embodied in their own platforms even to the quotation of the words of their leaders, then the party pleads guilty, and is proud of the affiliation. A reform party could not do otherwise than declare democratic principles. If, by the new party, a reform is made possible, even though it is not all the enthusiastic new party demands, then it has accomplished glorious things for the country.

The people must be with the Homestead strikers. The Grand Army, Sons of Veterans, the Hibernian Rifles and other organizations have turned their arms over to the men to help protect themselves and their families from the Pinkerton sleuth hounds. Did the people need a lesson like this to show them how firmly and determinedly the high-tax barons are intrenched in their strength, with the government behind them and the present administration ready to do their bidding for another four years "under the McKinley law"?

Manager Frick, of the Carnegie Steel company, refused again to-day to confer with his locked-out men. Evidently the companies feel that they are masters of the situation and decline to give any quarter. They will doubtless be able, through the law of state and nation that protects citizen and property from riot, to come off victorious, however disastrous the battle shall be, but their day of reckoning is near at hand. There comes on afterclap to a storm like this. The elemental conditions that generate it will be looked into.

Baron Carnegie cables from his castle in Scotland, "Hold the Fort," against those workmen in my American mills, who protest against a cut in wages. Then he soliloquizes: "It will take a big bonus this campaign for the Harrisonians, and only through their rule can I perpetuate my own. These protected workingmen must submit to bear the tax. In no other way can I keep up my profits, buy copper mines and build castles in the various cities of two continents."

Why doesn't McKinley, with his magical presence go down to Homestead and tell those half-fed riotous strikers about "the American tariff that protects the American workingman in the humblest home from the ruinous competition of foreign labor." It might be the means of quelling the riot.

SUITS AGAINST THE CITY

Four of them Aggregating $238,000 to be Brought.

Parks Foster, the American Iron and Tube Co., the Chester Pipe and Iron Co., etc., In It.

The present muddle in which the city gas department is embroiled may lead the city through a neat dance in the courts.

E. W. Tolerton is preparing the papers in suits to be commenced against the city in the United States court by the American Iron and Tube company and the Chester Pipe and Iron company. The former brings suits for $31,000 and the latter for $54,000. Suits will also be commenced by Parks, Foster & Co. for $50,000 and Kerlin Bros. for $103,000.

The claims are for work done and goods supplied to the city gas department. Two of the above suits will be filed probably this week.

THE SCARCITY OF BOATS

Seriously Effects the C., H. V. & T. Railroad.

Various Items About Toledo Railroads.

The Lake Shore and Michigan Central to be Hauled Up Before the Interstate Commerce Commissioners—Meetings, Personals and Other Matters.

The Columbus, Hocking Valley & Toledo railroad has laid off 22 engineers and firemen. It comes about through the inability of the company to push its coal forward. The docks are blockaded, and a sufficient number of boats cannot be secured to keep it moving.

This scarcity of boats at Toledo is felt also by the Toledo & Ohio Central and the Wheeling & Lake Erie companies.

It is almost impossible to get boats except for Lake Superior. Boats for Green Bay, Milwaukee, Manatowa and intermediate points are few and far between.

One reason for this is that they are getting 60 cents on hard coal from Buffalo to Milwaukee, where last year they got only 45 and 50 cents.

Going east the boats load up with grain for Buffalo, and so Toledo is skipped on both ways.

If more boats came in here it would be different. About all than can be secured by the coal roads are those that arrive here with ore and the number is not sufficent to handle all the coal out of here.

While the movement of coal has been comparatively light this year still it has got to move and move soon, as it is getting along in the middle of the season. It will have one effect and that will be to keep rates high upon correspondingly stiff.

The Wheeling & Lake Erie mines are running full and the capacity for mining is being increased. The only question that bothers hte company now is that of getting boats.

The T. & O. C. is handling about 225 cars of coal daily at present.

Pilferers Caught.

The railroads are constantly bothered by the pilferings of boys in the local yards, and an attempt will be made to set an example that will stop the business. Four boys, Ed Merringer, George Schulz, Ed Schlotter and Ed Mackins, have been arrested for stealing water melons from the Clover Leaf cars. Two other boys, Frank Michaels and William Dettenger, are under arrest for breaking seals on cars and helping themselves in the C., H. & D. yards in this city. The cases will come up in police court tomorrow.

Clover Leaf Earnings.

The earnings of the Toledo, St. Louis & Kansas City railroad for the month of June amounted to $153,275. The earnings for June, 1891, were $149,266. This shows an increase of $4,009.

Railroaders at Ball.

The game of ball that has been arranged for by the railroad men to be played for the benefit of the Toledo Boys' Home will come off Saturday afternoon next at the ball park. It was postponed on account of bad weather.

Ohio Central Earnings.

The earnings of the Toledo & Ohio Central railroad for the month of June were $128,600, an increase of $10,749 compared with the same month of last year.

The earnings of the Toledo, Columbus & Cincinnati railroad for the month past amounted to $26,055, a decrease of $296 compared with June, 1891.

W. & L. E. Meeting To-morrow.

A meeting of the stockholders of the Wheeling & Lake Erie railroad will be held in this city to-morrow, at which important steps will be taken. President Lawrence is expected to arrive from New York Friday. The meeting will probably bring to light something about the proposed eastern extension.

Going to Europe.

General Superintendent T. M. Peelar, of the Ohio Central lines, is expected home from Middle Bass Wednesday next. He sails from New York on the Inman line's City of New York, for Queenstown. He will visit Ireland, Scotland, France and England. He will not travel much, but will rest himself.

New Freight Houses.

The work at the Michigan Central docks on the bayou is nearly completed. The dredging is all done and there is now 15 feet of water at the docks. After the docks are in shape it is the intention of the company to build a substantial freight house. A smaller freight house is also to be erected in West Toledo to handle the rapidly increasing business there.

The Number That Went.

W. S. Brown, traveling passenger agent of the Lake Shore, is in the city looking after the New York excursionists. Thus far 178 have gone by the Lake Shore and the Michigan Central railrads, 35 by the Pennsylvania and 60 by the Wheeling & Lake Erie.

Before the Inter-State Commission.

The Lake Shore, the Wabash, the Pennsylvania, the Michigan Central and other roads are to be pulled up before the interstate commerce commission this afternoon at Chicago to answer to charges that have been made generally in regard to discriminations in favor of certain shippers, placing others at a disadvantage and otherwise violating the inter-state commerce act. Doubtless the result of this investigation will have some effect on the cartage question in Toledo and the discriminations that have been repeatedly made against local shippers.

Cinders Here and There.

Auditor J. Langraf, of the Ohio Central Lines, left for New York to-day.

The directors of the Ohio Central lines will hold a meeting in this city Friday.

W. S. Wade, agent of the Wheeling & Lake Erie railroad at Norwalk, is in the city to-day.

General Agent E. B. Coolidge of the Wheeling & Lake Erie at Detroit, is in town to-day.

Commercial Agent C. C Gridley of the Columbus, Hocking Valley & Toledo, is in Columbus.

General Manager F. B. Drake, of the Cincinnati, Jackson & Mackinaw, left this morning for Kansas City.

Col. John T. Gamble, traveling passenger agent of the Ohio Central Lines, is at Bowling Green to-day.

The work on the improvements at the Ohio Central docks still progresses. It will be some time before they are completed.

The Toledo Car Service association is handled some 9,000 cars last month, with an average detention of one and one-sixth days.

John Moores, of Mansfield, southern excursion agent of the Ohio Central lines, is calling at the general offices in this city to-day.

There will be a meeting of the Detroit and Toledo Superintendents' association Saturday afternoon in Room 12, Bee building.

The Toledo Car Service assiation is comfortably located in the Bee building, occupying rooms 11 and 12, second floor. The inspection bureau occupies room 10.

General Passenger Agent J. M. Hall of the Wheeling says he has the shortest and straightest road to New York and that he is going to take 200 people to the metropolis on the present low rates.

A Holyoke (Mass.) couple were married lately after twenty-seven years' courtship, and in fitting up their new home the bride decorated her sewing-room in the most unique fashion. Her husband is a traveling man, and during their long engagement had written faithfully from all quarters of our big continent. She had treasured every envelope which brought her his letters, and now they paper the walls of her sewing-room. It is a whole afternoon's work to study out postmarks and make a chronological arrangement of the stamps of twenty-seven years. The dado to this queer wall paper is the blurred sheets of various-tinted blotting paper, which has soaked up the bride's loving thoughts through many a long weary year.

ADDITIONAL RETURNS.

Results of the Elections Now Taking Place in England.

London, July 6.—Isaac Holden, liberal, re-elected without opposition.

Glamorganshire, Rhondda, W. Abraham, labor, re-elected, no opposition.

Hampshire, Andover, W. W. Beach, conservative, no opposition.

Clare, Ireland, Dr. Tanner, anti-Parnellite, re-elected, no opposition.

Yorkshire, West Riding, South Hallamshire, Waterford, Ireland, West Division, Alfred Webb, anti-Parnellite, re-elected without opposition.

In the following returns there were contests:

Edinburgh, West Division, Lord Wm. Waldegrave Palmer Wolmer, liberal unionist, elected by 3,728 to 3,216 for Thomas Reyburn Buchanan, liberal. This is a serious reverse for the liberals, Mr. Buchanan having been returned without a contest in 1881. In 1886 Mr. Buchanan was a liberal unionist and was elected by 3,082 to 2,393 for Wallace, liberal. Mr. Buchanan became a convert to Irish home rule in 1888, and offered himself for reelection. His constituents approved his conversion by re-electing him, 3,294 to 3,248. The division now goes back to liberal unionism and the liberals lose a valuable Scottish member.

Edinburgh, South Division, Herbert Paul, liberal, elected, 4,682 to 4,261 for Lewis McIven, liberal unionist. The vote in 1886 was liberal 3,778, liberal unionist 2,191.

Edinburgh, East Division, Robert Wallace, liberal, re-elected, 3,963; R. W. McLeod Fullarton, 2,803.

Edinburgh, Central Division, William McEwan, liberal, re-elected, 3,733; A. K. Connell, liberal unionist, 1,758; Wilson, labor, 438.

REAL ESTATE BOOM

The Pennsylvania Gets Hold of East Side Property.

A Syndicate of Detroit and Toledo Capitalists

Place $18,500 in Toledo Property—Irving B. Hiett Invests Near his Home—A Number of Other Deals

There is a gradual but lively boom in Toledo real estate. Yesterday and to-day there have been quite a number of large deals consummated.

The Pennsylvania has finally closed the deal for the river front tract lying northeast of the Cherry street bridge. The papers have been signed, sealed and will probably be recorded to-day.

As stated in these columns several weeks ago when the aforesaid deal was pending, the Pennsylvania Railroad company proposes erecting large coal docks on the East Side. Mr. H. S. Walbridge conducted the sale and Mr. E. W. Tolerton has prepared the papers. The company, it is understood, has been negotiating for other property on both sides of the river, but owing to the heavy price asked the deal has been declared off for the present.

Messrs. Geo. E. Pomeroy & Son have sold to a syndicate of Detroit and Toledo capitalists about sixty acres on Lagrange street, beautifully located for platting, at a price aggregating $10,000. The Detroit interest is represented by the wealthy and able real estate dealer, Geo. H. Thomas, who has made a fortune in Detroit real estate, and has had his eye on Toledo for some months, as being a city of low values and a great future.

The same parties also bought, through Messrs. Pomeroy & Son, 41 feet at the corner of Cherry and Superior streets, for $8,500, and as soon as the title can be perfected they will erect a fine business block there.

The same firm has just sold 50 feet on Erie street to Henry Speiker for $2,500, on which Mr. Speiker will at once build a handsome dwelling.

Another 40 feet on Bush street, near Erie, was sold for $35 per foot to Chas. Mueller, who will build, amounting to $1,500. Also 40 feet on Bush street, corner Erie, to the city for an engine house, at $35 per foot.

James C. Milles bought through this firm 40 feet on Chase street, near Galena, on which a new dwelling has recently been erected, for which he paid $1,600.

A better summer buying than has been known for some years is reported, and the indication for a great activity this fall and winter is very clear. Property on Lagrange street, in the neighborhood of St. Hedwig's church, is very active. Ten houses and lots have been built and sold in Pomeroy's Lagrange addition within the past few weeks, and the demand continues.

Irving B. Hiett last evening closed a deal, whereby he came into possession of 60 feet on Collingwood avenue, purchased of C. A. Brigham, for $80 per foot, amounting to $4,800. This property lies adjoining Mr. Hiett's residence.

George G. Metzger to-day through his agents, I. H. Detwiler & Co., sold to Charles F. Peck, lots 4 and 5 of subdivision of Vistula division, for $6,000. These lots are a part of the block recently purchased by Mr. Metzger and others, located on the corner of St. Clair and Oak streets.

CITY AUDITOR PHEATT

Leaves the Ranks of Single Blessedness

And Takes Unto Himself One of Fremont's Fairest Ladies—The Ceremony Last Evening—Toledoans Present.

A delightful wedding occurred at Fremont last evening in which Toledo people are interested, and by it Toledo society gains the addition of a charming lady. It was the marriage of Mr. James H. Pheatt, Toledo's popular city auditor, to Miss Fannie G. Thompson, of that city. The ceremony was performed at the home of the bride's parents, 511 East State street, Rev. J. G. Shackelford, of St. Paul's Episcopal church, officiating.

The bride was attended by Misses Laura Moses, Vernie Baker, Ada Andrews, Zella Arneyand, Lucy Bristol, and Mr. George H. Guenther, of Pittsburg, acted as best man.

The bride is one of Fremont's popular young society ladies, and the wedding was one of the events of the season, and was attended by a large number of guests, among whom was a party of Toledo councilmen and city officials, consisting of City Engineer John R. Miller, City Clerk Sylvester Lamb, Messrs. Phil. Hassenzahl, William J. Gill, Theo. Schmitt, F. C. Tanner, W. R. Hodge, L. W. Morris, J. A. Rutherford, John Daly, G. M. Doner and F. H. Wolfman, members of the council boards, and Messrs. F. E. Cole, Daniel Gavin and J. D. Sullivan. Other guests from Toledo were Messrs. Harry Houghton, Herman Klauser, Frank A. Lee, Zeb Pheatt, and Mr. and Mrs. G. K. Pheatt.

The councilmanic party made the trip down in a special car and returned late in the night by a special train. The trip was made under the auspices of the Wheeling & Lake Erie Railway company, and the party was well treated.

Many elegant presents were received by the happy couple, among which was a silver tea service presented by the city officers. Mr. and Mrs. Pheatt will make a short trip, after July 12th will be at home at 706 Locust street.

The United States, Great Britain and Germany send the greatest number of letters through the mails. The Universal Postal Union bureau's report of the annual receipts is: German empire, 317,426,566 francs; United States, 315,451,284 farnes, and Great Britain 246,276,950 francs. The United States sells more postage stamps, or makes more on them, than any other nation. The bureau reports: United States annual receipts from postage stamps, 298,713,598 francs; German empire, 223,320,611 francs, and Great Britain, 235,993,950 francs.

The hydrographic bureau at Washington for two years has been trying to learn something of the characteristics of the Atlantic ocean as a great moving body of water by bottles. As a result the whole Atlantic is shown to be slowly circulating round and round, like an enormous pool.

COMPARTMENT HOUSE

Col. Isaac D. Smead Has Plans Prepared

For Converting His Handsome Residence

Into a General Compartment House With Cafe, Etc., Attached—Quite an Enterprise.

If there is one thing which Toledo needs more than another it is a compartment house in a desirable location. To this aim Col. Isaac D. Smead, whose enterprise is something to cause wonder, has had plans drawn to convert his present spacious home on Vermont avenue, and the house facing on Woodruff avenue, which he owns, into a place of this kind, by connecting them and removing the barns and sheds in the rear of the houses. The magnificent porch which now surrounds his residence will be extended around the adjoining house. The balconies will be charming adjuncts to the establishment. A tower similar to the Vermont avenue house will be built on the Woodruff avenue one. The 120 rooms will be outside rooms, that is, each room is so arranged that a view of the street may be obtained. There will be a grand parlor on the first floor and a grand dining room on the second, which may be entered by private or public entrances, and which may be used as a club house for the people of the Seventh ward.

A more lovely or convenient spot for this purpose would be hard to find. It is the highest point of land in the city; is on the Belt line, and yet a most desirable and home-like location.

The demand for the villa is great, which, in reality, will be ideal. The rooms, which are beautifully finished, are large, light and airy. Mr. Smead never undertakes anything except on a grand scale, and his present anticipation will undoubtedly be met with favor by the countless number of people who desire to room or board several months in the year, or longer, and who would heartily appreciate a place where there was plenty of light, air, freedom and every convenience.

MASTER HOUSE PAINTERS

Happy Combining Business and Pleasure.

Their First State Convention a Shining Success—Old Officers Re-Elected—Banquet To-night.

That the master house painters thoroughly understand the secret of carrying on a convention successfully is evidenced by the methodical and business like manner in which their first state convention has been conducted. The members enter into the spirit of the work with zest; there are no long drawn out speeches; the discussions are pithy and pointed, and the presiding officer is a thorough parliamentarian, hence a great amount of business has been transacted in a very short time, and the convention will adjourn this afternoon. As the members of this association work—so do they play, and whether it is a house or a town that is to be painted, these gentlemen will be found very expert in the art of decorating.

The afternoon session yesterday was opened by Mr. William Downie, of Cleveland, who gave a very comprehensive talk on white lead. His remarks brought out considerable discussion, the participants being Messrs. John Romeis, of Toledo, and J. Grace, of Cincinnati. Mr. Allan G. Meakin, of Cincinnati, then took up the subject of responsibility; as to whether or not master painters are accountable for the acts of men in their employ. Messrs. Downie, of Clevelanhd, and Botefuhr, of Toledo, also spoke on this subject. The matter of rating of the wages of journeymen according to their ability was brought up by Secretary Kealy. This brought out an animated discussion, in which interesting talks were given by Mr. Romeis, Mr. Meakin and President Kyle. The subjects discussed were referred to the executive board, on motion of Mr. Kealy, and the board instructed to appoint committees to look into the matter and report at the next state convention.

Adjournment was then taken until this evening, and the visitors were taken around the city, with which they were greatly pleased. In the evening they took an excursion to the lake on the steamer Pastime.

Previous to the opening of the convention this morning, the following new delegates were admitted: Bauman & Son, Indianapolis, Ind.; Ralph S. Tibbett, Sandusky, O.; the Lily Varnish company, Indianapolis, Ind.; Pratt & Lambert, New York; Buckeye Paint & Color company, Toledo; Fisher & Mullenbeck, Toledo.

The convention was called to order at 10:30 by President Kyle, and a letter of greeting from New Jersey association of Master House Painters read; a letter was also read from Mr. Geo. Hall, of Logan, O., member of the executive board, regretting his inability to attend.

The question of laying aside sufficient money to do "missionary" work was exhaustively discussed, Messrs. Kealy, Theobald and Meakim, of Cincinnati; Downing, of Cleveland, and Parkhurst, of Toledo, being the principal speakers. A motion finally carried to lay aside $100 to be expended at the discretion of the executive board.

The officers, who have so efficiently filled their positions, as to make their services indispensable, were re-elected for the ensuing year as follows:

President, Charles Kyle, Cleveland; vice president, John I. Turner, Toledo; secretary-treasury, Joseph P. Kealy, Cincinnati; executive board, Chas. Kyle, John I. Turner, John P. Kealy; Lewis Fink, Columbus, O.; Allan G. Meakin, Cincinnati; L. Weber, Cleveland; Geo. W. Hall, Logan, O.; F. J. Cook, Mansfield, O.

Mr. John Theobald, of Cincinnati, and Mr. John Romeis, of Toledo, were elected delegates to the national convention to be held at Cleveland in Februray. Mr. Lewis Fink, of Columbus, and Thos. Parkhurst, of Toledo, were elected alternates.

The convention then adjourned until 2:30 this afternoon, when the place for holding the next state convention will be fixed. It is likely that Springfield will capture it. At 3 o'clock the convention will close, and the delegates and their friends will board the steamer Douglas, and go down to Turtle light. At 9:30 this evening the visitors will be banquetted at Hotel Madison, and a grand time is anticipated.

The delegates have formed very favorable impressions of Toledo, and have made no less pleasant impressions on our citizens. The Bee is especially indebted to the genial secretary-treasurer, Mr. Joseph P. Kealy, of Cincinnati, for courtesies extended.

COMPANY ORGANIZED

To Establish a Street Cleaning Department Here.

Papers of Incorporation Forwarded to Columbus—Will Operate a Newly Patented Apparatus.

To-day papers of incorporation were forwarded to Columbus for an industry which promises to be of great interest to Toledo.

It will be known as the Toledo Street Cleaning and Improvement company, and the capital stock is $20,000.

The incorporators are: F. O. Paddock, James Hodge, H. W. Knight, I. A. Emerson and H. E. King. The organization of the company will take place as soon as the papers return.

The company proposes operating a newly-patented and very ingenious street cleaning device. Those on the inside say it will be a bonanza.

It is proposed to construct the apparatus in Toledo, and a large plant will probably be required for the proper construction of the machine.

COL. SMEAD GETS THERE

The Board of Education Awards the Contract

For Heating the Air Line Building—High School Teachers Get a Raise—Miscellaneous Business.

The school board met in regular session last evening, with all members present.

A delegation of citizens from Air Line Junction was in attendance, representing a request that Miss Murphy, whom it declares had not been retained as a member of the corps of teachers, be continued in service at the Junction. The delegation presented as reasons that Miss Murphy had been diligent and earnest in her efforts to promote the interests of the school, and that her work had always been entirely satisfactory.

Mr. Kohn stated that he had not made case was still under consideration, and that her name had been stricken from the list, but she would likely be appointed to some position.

Mr. Kahn stated that h ehad not made any inquiry into the matter, but it was his opinion that some action should be taken, either to appoint the young lady or let her know that her services would not be desired, as to give her an opportunity to seek employment elsewhere.

The case was referred to the teachers' committee, and a report will be made at the next meeting.

Truant Officer Disher submitted his monthly report. It showed four incorrigibles sent to Lancaster.

A petition signed by a number of East Side residents requesting that the following named teachers be appointed in the interest of right and justice: Miss Atkinson, Miss Bihl, and Mr. Beckwith, was submitted and referred to the teachers' committee.

The following self-explanatory communication was submitted, relative to the increase of salaries as considered at the last meeting:

Toledo, June 23, 1892.

Teachers' Committee, Board of Education:

We, the undersigned, teachers of the High school, respectfully ask the members of the board of education to reconsider their late appointments and reappoint us at the salary of $800 each, in just recognition of our years of faithful service.

Respectfully submitted,
ADA RITCHIE.
FANNIE HARNIT.
ELSIE KRUGER.
MARIE R. PETIT.
ELLA M TORDT.
MARY F. DUNLAP.

Mr. Kohn moved that the request be granted, stating that these teachers were thoroughly competent and could easily procure employment elsewhere at better salary. That no doubt the vacancies could be filled, but the question would be whether they would be as competent teachers. He considered it unfair to discriminate, and that all should be placed on the same basis.

Mr. Schlingman spoke against the motion, stating that the committee had a scheme on foot to settle the matter, and moved that the matter be laid over until the next meeting.

Mr. Trost said the teachers' committee had a habit of doing as it pleased without any explanation to the board, and that the other members knew as much about the matter as they ever would. He seconded Mr. Kohn's motion.

Mr. Broer seconded Mr. Schlingman's motion to table the communication, which was lost by the following vote: Nay, Kohn, Trost, Scott, Eversman, Schuck; aye, Hubbard, Schlingman, Broer, Zirwas.

Mr. Kohn's motion carried by the same vote and the salaries will be raised.

The contract for the sodding of the East Toledo school was awarded to John Barrow, for $215.

Mr. Scott presented a plat of Birmingham addition, in which a site had been recommended for the erection of a building in East Toledo, the lot to cost $30. A motion to purchase the lot prevailed.

Mr. Schlingman moved that a wooden building be erected on the lot for temporary purposes.

Mr. Scott moved that a four room brick building be erected on the lot.

Mr. Schlingman withdrew his motion, providing that a four room brick building on the lot on Walbridge avenue be included in Mr. Scott's motion. The motion carried.

The finance committee reported a schedule of bills amounting to $395.55, which was approved and ordered paid.

The bonds of the contractors for the Air Line Junction building were approved.

The fuel committee reported a schedule of bills amounting to $524, which was ordered paid.

Other regular bills were allowed.

On the call of unfinished business, Mr. Kohn moved that the contract for the heating and ventilating apparatus for the new school house be awarded Bennett & Peck, this firm being the lowest bidders.

Mr. Schlingman moved an amendment that the contract be awarded to I. D. Smead.

Mr. Kohn spoke at some length of the Bennett & Peck system, describing an investigation of this system by himself and Mr. Trost, on invitation of the firm. He stated that he had visited Hamilton, where the Bennett & Peck system is in use, and were met by the board of education of that city, and that the general sentiment was that the system was entirely satisfactory. As a result of the investigation he was satisfied that as good results would be obtained from the Bennett & Peck furnaces as from the Smead.

Dr. Scott stated that he had talked to 127 tax-payers, and 36 of that number came to him voluntarily and insisted that he vote for Mr. Smead, all things being even, but on the contrary on a saving of over 30 per cent., insisted that he vote for the lowest bidder. He then stated that Mr. Smead had in the past received more for his system than he had received elsewhere, that the city of Toledo had paid out thousands of dollars as a donation to Mr. Smead. He was in favor of awarding the contract to Bennett & Peck.

Mr. Smead said that if his competitors would be requested to leave the room, he would talk for twenty minutes and convince Mr. Kohn that he was being grossly deceived, and further he would make his statement to the outsiders present, all of whom were strangers to him and leave it to them to decide between the two systems.

Mr. Kohn said that Judge Commager was present, representing Bennett & Peck's interest, and would like to say a word.

Judge Commager arose to speak, when President Hubbard called for the motion.

Mr. Kohn insisted that the speaker be heard, but the chair presisted on the motion. At this juncture several members were on their feet, at least a halfdozen talking at once. Judge Commager called to Mr. Kohn to let the chair apply the gag, and he would demand an investigation, and ascertain the cause of Mr. Smead's peculiar influence over certain members of the board, especially in connection with the president.

Mr. Kohn persisted, and the chair called for a vote as to whether Mr. Commager should be heard or not, and it prevailed that he should.

The Judge stated that he represented Bennett & Peck, but had nothing to say further than he repudiated all of the gross misstatements made by Mr. Smead.

Mr. Kohn then suggested that the matter be laid over for two weeks longer, during which time both companies could have an opportunity to show their systems. Mr. Smead could take one week, and Bennett & Peck another, and in this way both would have a fair and equal chance.

The chair again stated the question, and a vote was taken on Mr. Schlingman's amendment to Mr. Kohn's motion to adopt the Bennett & Peck system, wherein he moved that the Smead system be adopted. The amendment prevailed, and the contract was awarded to Isaac D. Smead.

CURRENT COMMENT.

The co-operation that Tariff Baron Carnegie believes in is the co-operation of McKinleyism and Pinkerton's Hessians.—New York World.

The apologists of the Carnegie monopoly have jumped from the frying pan into the fire. They confess that the promise that the McKinley tariff would benefit the manufacture has not materialized into fact.—Rochester Herald.

Mr. Carnegie is a protectionist beyond doubt, else he would not have built that nine-foot stone wall around his private office at Homestead and surrounded the entire works by a wooden wall to protect himself against his late employes.—Dayton Times.

Carnegie's lockout is an impressive lesson of the great value to American workmen of the benefits of the republican party's protective tariff. Carnegie himself, like an absentee landlord, is enjoying himself in the old world. The manufacturer gets the best of the tariff arrangement.—Chicago Times.

It is a trite saying that the interests of capital and labor are one. In the Homestead controversy that is conspicuously true. A speedy and fair settlement cannot fail to prove advantageous to both employer and employe. Such a settlement can be reached by arbitration. Let both sides agree to arbitrate.—New York Herald.

"One of the big iron men of Pittsburg," Campbell B. Herron, is quoted as saying: "The principle of protection is well grounded and the people know that it causes competition and therefore makes things cheaper." If it did that Mr. Herron and his brother tariff barons would be furious free traders.—Wheeling Register.

"Mr. Carnegie's house," says one who visited it a month ago, "is one of the brightest spots in England. The house is a veritable Eden to live in, with apparently nothing but sunshine looking over it. It is a dream of curiosities, and Mr. Phipp's residence is a palace of splendor." The money which pays for the foreign luxury of Mr. Carnegie is that which he robs from American workingmen.—Boston Post.

Mr. Carnegie has given no sign of feeling the pressure of hard times. He has given away millions lately, and has luxurious palaces and parks both in this country and in Scotland. He declares that he will give away his entire fortune before he dies, and says that the man who holds on to his millions until death when he had a chance to give them away during his life dies disgraced. Why not show this side of his nature to the workingmen? Instead of giving away so much money to colleges and libraries, why not give less and add the remainder to the wages of the men whose work has built up the immense fortune of this plutocrat?—Atlanta Constitution.

CAMPBELL RESIGNS.

Benjamin Must Get a New Chairman.

The National Committee Will Have to Go Begging to Find a Man.

Washington, July 6.—Hon. W. J. Campbell, chairman of the republican national committee, arrived here this afternoon and went to the White House at 2:30. There he remained till nearly 6 in consultation with the president, Secretary Rusk, Secretary Elkins, Commissioner Carter and ex-Senator Spooner, of Wisconsin. At the conclusion of the conference Chairman Campbell gave out the following statement for publication, saying he had nothing further to say with regard to the question at issue:

"When I was elected chairman of the national committee it was with the distinct understanding that my business engagements then pending might render it impossible for me to act in that capacity. This contingency was fully understood by the committee and others directly interested. Since the adjournment of the committee I have been unable to adjust my affairs so as to render it practicable for me to act as chairman; and I, therefore, as I reserved the right to do, announce that I will not so act. Under the authority vested in me by the national committee, I will probably announce the executive committee within the next few days, and that committee will meet at an early date. At that meeting I will formally tender my resignation, and my successor will be then elected. My successor will be chosen by the executive committee as authorized by resolution adopted by the national committee."

The resolution alluded to was adopted to meet just such a contingency as has arisen. The names most prominently mentioned to-night in connection with the chairmanship are Commissioner T. H. Carter, J. H. Manley, of Mine, Samuel Fessenden, of New Hampshire, and Mr. Hobart, of New Jersey.

A CHICAGO DRINKING SONG.

Come, brother, share the fellowship
We celebrate to-night;
There's grace of song on every lip
And every heart is light!
But first, before our mentor chimes
The hour of jubilee,
Let's drink a health to good old times,
And good times yet to be!
Clink, clink, clink!
Merrily let us drink!
There's store of wealth
And more of health
In every glass we drink!
Clink, clink, clink!
To fellowship we drink!
And from the bowl
No genial soul
In such an hour can shrink.

And you, oh, friends from west and east
And other foreign parts,
Come share the rapture of our feast,
The love of loyal hearts;
And in the wassail that suspends
All matters burthensome,
We'll drink a health to good old friends
And good friends yet to come.
Clink, clink, clink!
To fellowship we drink!
And from the bowl
No genial soul
In such an hour will shrink.
Clink, clink, clink!
Merrily let us drink!
There's fellowship
In every sip
Of friendship's brew, we think.

MR. PETERS AND HIS CITY RELATIONS

I don't know why it is, but I don't seem to get on well
With them o' my relations that down in the city dwell—
Except when summer's comin', or when summer's reely here,
Them times they sort o' treat like as though they held me dear.
'Nd through July 'nd August I most generally sees
A half a dozen of 'em here beneath my ellum trees.

But when it comes to winter, and there's nothin' much to do,
'Nd I go down to see them in the town a week or two,
You'd think, the way they look at me, they'd never heard my name,
Or that I'd brought upon 'em some everlastin' shame.
Why, 'long about last New Year's time, I happened in one night
When they was havin' dinner, and you'd thought I was a blight.

My cousin's wife she got as red as any healthy beet
When I declined some oyster cakes 'nd ast for solid meat—
Though I remember mighty well at my place last July
She turned her back on roast corn' beef 'nd made a meal on pie.
'Nd just because I ast a dude they hat at that there meal
If he was Mary Ann's young man, "Maree" began to squeal.

It ain't their hearts that's wantin'—they're affectionate enough—
They show that when they come to me when city heat gets tough.
It's in the brain—and, after all, I ain't a bit surprised,
By just one week of city life I'm nearly paralyzed.
'Nd all their little queernesses had ought to be set down,
I think, to that unnat'ral life they lead down there in town.

—Harper's Bazar.

If all the locomotives in the United States were coupled together they would make a train of solid iron and steel over three hundred miles long. Add the passenger cars and we would have three hundred miles more of wood and iron. This would give us a gigantic passenger train six hundred miles in length, counting both engines and cars. Should we want a huge "mixed" train we might add the "box," "flat," and every other kind of freight car, and our train would then have a total length of over seven thousand miles! The passenger cars in this gigantic train would be capable of seating 1,500,000 people, and upon the freight cars could be loaded the weight of the pyramids of Egypt and all the state capitols of the United States beside.

This is from the New York World: A remarkable freak of lightning occurred some time ago near the small village of New Salem, Vt., at the foot of the Hildeberg mountains. Arent S. Vandyck occupies an old mansion in the parlor of which hung a collection of revolutionary swords, one of which was heavily plated with silver. On the night in question a terrific thunderstorm burst, and one particularly heavy crash stunned every one in the house. Quickly recovering the family hastened to see what damage had been done. Suddenly the youngest Vandyck pointed to an old-fashioned sofa. There lay what seemed to be a silver cat, curled up as comfortably as could be. Each glittering hair was separate and distinct, and each silvery bristle of the whiskers described as graceful a curve as if in life. Turning to the sword on the wall just above the sofa, father and son remarked that the plated sword had been stripped of all its silver; the scabbard was a strip of blackened steel, and the hilt had gone altogether. The family cat had been electroplated by lightning.

WHO WAS IT?

I was going away for a short visit; my own handbag had been mislaid and being hurried I took that of my brother, which was at that moment lying on his bed. I found it partially full of various small things, which I dumped in my haste on the counterpane. Among some lead pencils, pens and a button hook I saw some money—bills only—rolled into cigarette form and lying with the other things.

"Hello! some money," thought I, and proceeded to see how much, temptation working hard in my finger ends. To my surprise the bills ran as follows (I say surprise, for my brother was counted a poor man): One $500 note, one at $1,000 and a $50 bill. "Just like Jack," I silently observed. "He always does things in the most extraordinary way, as per example, going to Europe leaving his house windows open, as though the place were not empty, and thereby giving no encouragement to the dishonest. I was afraid to leave the money on the bed, had no time for concealment, so I slipped it back into one of the pockets of the bag, then packed it quickly and flew out to catch my train. My destination was only a short distance from New York, and after pleasant glimpses of the Hudson River I reached my station. I was welcomed only by the coachman. My friends had bid him say that a tennis tournament that afternoon had been their excuse for not welcoming me more warmly. On arriving at the house I was shown my room, and I proceeded to make the short toilet necessary before dining. At dinner I related my little experience, saying, as I finished the tale, that I had brought the bills with me. Opposite to me and next to the son of the house sat a young man whose expression of countenance had (even before I spoke) at once arrested my attention. He listened, as all did, very attentively to what I related, and I saw a wondering look come over his face. The conversation was then turned on many topics, which—the dinner being informal—all joined. As soon as it was possible for him to do so, the gentleman opposite me asked, with cultured grace, if he might be excused, as he had an early engagement for the evening. He bowed generally to the table, then left the room, but not before he had given me a strange look, which made my heart bound within me. It was a look of searching mistrust, and was mingled with defiance. I turned to my hostess and sought to speak, but she was deeply engaged with her neighbor, who at that moment opened conversation in the most animated of styles. By this I lost a few seconds, and feeling, I know not why, impelled to rise and go, proffered my excuses as I hastily left the room.

Quickly I sped along the passage, up the stairs to the corridor above. The rooms opened around this corridor, so that all doors could be seen. A shadow fell across the sill of my own door. I drew back against a portiere and concealed myself in its folds. Soon I discerned the form of a man; he was looking, I thought, towards the stairs. He came on, passed me, crossed the hall, and walked quietly, but not stealthily, toward a remote part of the house, his face somewhat down.

It was my friend's guest. In a moment I had gained my own door, and then I noticed what I had not seen before, that there was a cross passage by my door which led to other parts of the mansion. Going in my room, I saw that things were just as I had left them. The bag was on a window seat, and closed. I was ashamed of my suspicions and was about to leave the room again, then I suddenly determined to find a hiding place for the bag. At last one was chosen, and I returned to the circle in the parlor below. I slept soundly that night, feeling that all was safe.

To my surprise the next day my brother came. He had missed the bag, felt anxious about the money, and came out to see me. I assured him that all was safe; that I had put the bag away. The day was fine, and as he could do so, he was soon persuaded to stay and enjoy the program, which was elaborately and attractively laid out. At evening he wished to return and to take the bag with him. I went for it, but it was gone. I stood for a moment bewildered, then said to myself: "Oh, no; it was not here I put it—that was the place I first thought of. It was in this room, I remember now, that I put it, behind the press. I flew to the spot—the bag was not there.

Then I wandered about aimlessly and could not find it. With fear I met my brother and told him that I could not remember where I had put the bag, having in my anxiety about the money selected so many spots. He looked at me sharply, then said goodby. I stood a moment in resentful rage, then turned on my heel and went down to the drawing room. All were chatting gaily. The son of the house, seeing me enter, came forward to offer me a chair, saying as he did so that he was so sorry that his friend had been called away; that he was a good fellow and a great society man; that he was sure we would have quickly understood one another and have been highly congenial.

As he spoke he bent upon me a searching look which froze my very blood. A smile and a gesture of exceeding politeness accompanied his speech.

I could not utter one word, but I felt that he had told me a lie.

—::—::—

Cleveland, July 6.—The Cleveland club to-day signed Clarkson, the pitcher. He will report for duty on Thursday or Friday. President Robison believes that Clarkson can pitch winning ball if placed among new surroundings, and the Cleveland cranks who have heard the news already have their eyes on the fall pennant. It will be necessary to release one of the other pitchers.

—::—::—

The Dotzer Cadets defeated the Worsell Cadets in a 13-inning game of ball Tuesday morning by the score of 6 to 5. Batteries—Wagner and Schreopper; Zeaman and A. Schreopper. Umpire—Deetzer. The feature of the game was the batting of McKenzie—two home runs and three three-base hits.

—::—::—

The Auburndale Y. M. C. A. base ball club, having been challenged by the Y. M. C. A. base ball club of Findlay, to play them a game of ball on their grounds on the Fourth, accepted. After preliminary talk, and necessary labor, in coating the grounds with sawdust, etc., and giving them a good doctoring, the Auburndale Y's made short work of them, as the score below shows:

1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9

PROOF OF MERIT.

The proof of the merits of a plaster is the cures it effects, and the voluntary testimonials of those who have used Allcock's Porous Plasters during the past thirty years is unimpeachable evidence of their superiority, and should convince the most skeptical. Self-praise is no recommendation, but certificates from those who have used them are.

Beware of imitations and do not be deceived by misrepresentation. Ask for Allcock's, and let no solicitation of explanation induce you to accept a substitute.

ANNEXATION.

A Canadian Journal Raises an Alarm.

Toronto, July 6.—The News, an influential conservative paper, in an editorial on the "Duty of Loyal Citizens," says: "There are at least a dozen journals in western and central Ontario that if not advocates of annexation are certainly far from being strong in loyalty to Canada.

"This is an evidence of feeling among certain sections of the community to which many are willfully blind. There is no use playing the ostrich act. An annexation party is either in existence or in course of formation, and it is the duty of loyal men to line up without regard to previous party affiliations in opposition to it."

WANT FIRE ARMS.

Mine Owners Would Like to Shoot Their Union Men.

Boise City, Idaho, July 6.—Late last evening a prominent citizen and mine owner of the Coeur D'Alene wired Gov. Willey requesting that a number of cases of arms be sent there at once for the use of the guards on the mines worked by the non-union men.

An outbreak is feared.

In reply Gov. Willey said he had no arms.

Private advices are that things are assuming a more threatening aspect each day, and trouble is imminent, though it is hoped better counsel will prevail.

COULD NOT STAND DEFEAT.

An Englishman Commits Suicide After Hearing the News.

London, July 6.—Immediately upon the announcement of the victory of the Hon. Sidney Herbert, the conservative candidate in the Croydon district, yesterday, a well-known radical, named Jordan, went to his shop and committed suicide by hanging himself.

The defeat yesterday of Sir T. Sutherland, the liberal unionist candidate at Greenock, by Mr. John Bruce, liberal, is a deadly blow to the unionist cause in Scotland, and justifies the inference that the Scotch unionists will almost disappear, and that the number of English unionists will be reduced.

In the north division of Lambeth Henry M. Stanley was defeated, receiving only 2,394 votes, against 2,524 for the liberal candidate, Alderman F. M. Coldwells.

The leading feature of the elections as a whole is the comparatively small majorities and the increased number of voters.

NOTES FROM PIONEER.

Pioneer, July 6.—(Special)—General rain and high water are doing much damage to the crops. One meadow here was cut and partly cured and the next day was afloat on two feet of water.

Prof. Frank Smith attended the State Teachers' Institute at Cleveland last week. He reports an excellent convention.

There was no Fourth of July celebration here this year. Ransom, Mich., and Montpelier were the places of attraction.

Rev. Colgan and his congregation attended the Baptist church Sunday night, where Rev. W. W. Beardsley, the pastor, preached a temperance sermon.

The Woman's Home Missionary society of the M. E. church will meet at Mrs. E. D. Eggleston's on Wednesday evening.

FORTY DAYS IN THE EAST!

Lower rates than ever offered before over the Pennsylvania lines. For special information address Stockton, Pennsylvania Passenger Station, Toledo.

NOMINATIONS.

Washington, July 6.—The president has sent to the senate the following nominations:

Col. Robert Williams, assistant adjutant general, to be adjutant general with the rank of brigadier general.

Ernest G. Timme, of Wisconsin, to be fifth auditor of the treasury.

Wm Kapus, of Oregon, to be consul of the United States at Sydney, N. S. W.

FROM FINDLAY.

Interesting Notes From the Brilliant City.

Findlay, July 6.—(Special.)—John W. Bolton, of Sandusky City, has filed a petition here for a divorce from his wife. She resides in Rhode Island.

The trustees of the city improvement fund have organized as follows: J. T. Adams, president; Ed. Dietsch, vice president; Geo. L. Cusac, secretary.

A serious shooting affray occurred last night at Straitsville, north of this city on the Nickel Plate. A man by the name of Scouten was the victim. Sheriff Barton is in hot pursuit of the shootist. The cause was the result of a saloon fight.

WOMEN AT THE FAIR.

They Meet in Washington to Discuss Plans.

Washington, July 6.—The committee on federal legislation appointed by Mrs. Potter Palmer, president of the board of lady managers of the world's fair, consisting of Mrs. Troutman of New York, as chairman, Miss Katharine S. Minor, of New Orleans; Mrs. James E. Cantrell, of Kentucky; Mrs. F. W. Gold, of Moline, Ill.; Mrs. Kidder, of Wilmington, N. C.; Mrs. Alice Houghton, of Spokane, Wash., and Mrs. Potter Palmer, of Chicago, met in Mrs. Palmer's parlors at the Arlington hotel, for a general talk of the needs of that portion of the fair set apart for the ladies.

Mrs. Troutman said the committee would not transact any business until after appearing before the committee having charge of the proposed appropriation. It is their intention simply to answer any inquiries that the committee may make as to the necessity for the appropriation. The ladies will probably go before the committee to-morrow.

LAKESIDE.

A Large Outpouring of Religious People.

Lakeside, July 6.—(Special.)—Monday 3,000 people enjoyed the festivities at Lakeside. Yesterday there were more people on the grounds than at any time before at this season of the year.

The Baptist Young People's assembly are having an interesting session.

At 6 a. m. prayer meeting, led by E. E. Wood, Norwalk, was held in Bradley Temple.

In Paint the best is cheapest—

Strictly Pure White Lead

is best; properly applied it will not scale, chip, chalk, or rub off; it firmly adheres to the wood and forms a permanent base for repainting. Paints which peel or scale have to be removed by scraping or burning before satisfactory repainting can be done.

Be sure that you have only strictly pure White Lead. The following brands have a reputation established, they are standard, and well known.

ANCHOR (Cincinnati)
ARMSTRONG & McKELVY (Pittsburgh)
BEYMER-BAUMAN (Pittsburgh)
COLLIER (St. Louis)
CORNELL (Buffalo)
DAVIS-CHAMBERS (Pittsburgh)
ECKSTEIN (Cincinnati)
FAHNESTOCK (Pittsburgh)
MORLEY (Cleveland)
RED SEAL (St. Louis)
SHIPMAN (Chicago)
SOUTHERN (St. Louis and Chicago)

If a color other than white is wanted, tint the Lead with the National Lead Co.'s

Pure White Lead Tinting Colors

They are sold in small cans, one pound being sufficient to tint twenty-five pounds of strictly pure White Lead the desired shade.

In combination with strictly pure White Lead these colors make the best paint that it is possible to put on a building.

If you are going to paint, it will pay you to send to us for a book containing information that may save you many a dollar; it will only cost you a postal card to do so.

RADWAY'S PILLS,

The most perfect, safe and reliable Cathartic that has ever been compounded—PURELY VEGETBLE, positively containing no Mercury or other deleterious substances; having all the beneficial properties that Mercury is possessed of as a cathartic without the danger of any of its evil consequences, they have superseded Mercury, and have become the Pill of Modern Science. Elegantly coated and without taste, there is no difficulty in swallowing RADWAY'S PILLS; mild and gentle or thorough in their operations, according to the dose, they are the favorites of the present time.

They cure all disorders of the Stomach, Liver, Bowels, Kidneys, Bladder, Nervous Diseases, Loss of Appetite, Headache, Costiveness, Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Biliousness, Fever, Inflammation of the Bowels, Piles, and all the derangements of the Internal Viscera. 25 cents a box—sold by druggists. BREAKFAST.

"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well-selected Cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavored beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame."—"Civil Service Gazette."

Made simply with boiling water or milk. Sold only in half-pound tins, by Grocers, labelled thus:

DO YOU WANT GOLD?

Cripple Creek is not a health resort. It is a wealth resort. Quite a difference! Location, near Pike's Peak, in Colorado. Gold—bright, yellow gold, is found at grass roots and in the rock formation.

Reliable experts claim this is to-day the richest camp in Colorado. Assays average $100 per ton, and have run as high as $5,000. One hundred people a day are now rushing to Fremont, chief town of the district.

The chance of a life-time is worth looking after!

You can get there quickly and comfortably by taking Santa Fe Route. Only line with no change of cars from Chicago, Kansas City and other principal cities to Florissant, nearest railroad station, with daily stages, to Fremont.

Wheat Quotations for the Day—Price Currents for Produce and Other Articles.

The receipts of wheat to-day at Minneapolis and Duluth are 219,420 bu, and at five other western points 294,948 bu.

The export clearances yesterday at four Atlantic ports were: Wheat 214,274 bu and flour to an aggregate of 380,000 bu. Export of corn 21,482 bu and of oats 31,561 bu.

English markets open slow and weaker for wheat and firmer for corn.

The Markets To-Day.

The available stock of wheat compares with last year as follows, viz:

| | 1892—Bu. | 1891—Bu. |
|---|---|---|
| Visible supply | ....24,356,000 | 12,583,601 |
| Ocean stock | ....28,136,000 | 39,640,000 |
| | 52,492,000 | 52,223,601 |

It will be seen that while our visible supply is 11,772,395 bu greater this year than last, the ocean stock is reduced 11,504,000 bu.

Bradstreet's report of the visible supply makes wheat east of the Rockies decreased 569,000 bu; Pacific coast not recorded. Corn increased 1,903,000 bu and oats 1,085,000 bu.

New York, July 6.—Money loaned easy at 2 per cent. Exchange steady; posted rates $4 88@4 89 1-2; actual rates $4 87@4 87 1-4 for 60 days and $4 88 1-4@4 88 1-2 for demand.

Governments steady; currency, 6s, 106 bid; 4s coupon, 116 bid; extended 2s, registered, 100 bid.

Stocks were less active this morning. Only 105,000 shares were sold. Chicago Gas, St. Paul, Burlington, Reading, Union Pacific, L. & N. and a few others were the only stocks that showed any movement. Dealings were without feature, but prices were firm, and at noon slightly higher. Chicago Gas made the exceptional advance of 1 per cent. At this writing the market is dull.

THE TAX INQUISITORS

Are Knocked Out by Judge Pugsley

In a Case Where Attempt Was Made to Mulct Lawrence Newman Out of a Round Sum.

A very interesting tax suit was decided by Judge Pugsley in common pleas court this morning. It was one of the Morganthaler-Warwick cases, and was decided against the county by the court.

During the reign of the tax inquisitors in this county among others to be hauled up before the county auditor to account for property not returned, was Lawrence Newman, of this city, for $75,000 personal property in the Pliny Watson wholesale business, which the tax inquisitors claimed was a loan and consequently taxable.

The owner of the property claimed that the money was not invested as a loan, but as a special partnership in the business, and refused to pay taxes on it.

On this issue a suit was filed by Treasurer Hunter to recover taxes on the $75,000 for five years in arrears.

The case was tried last week and decided this morning, the court holding that the investment was not a loan, but a special partnership, and therefore not subject to taxation.

Republican meeting, Memorial Hall ground, Friday evening, July 8.

STEVENS-PADDOCK.

A Charming Wedding On Woodruff Avenue Last Evening.

Last evening at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Paddock, on Woodruff avenue, occurred the marriage of their eldest daughter, Miss Elizabeth Paddock, to Mr. George H. Stevens. It was a modest and pretty wedding. The ceremony was performed at 7:30 o'clock in the presence of the relatives and near friends, Dr. W. W. Williams officiating. Among those present from out of town were: Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Pattison, Miss Pattison and Myron Pattison, of Denver, Col.; Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Norton, and Miss Norton, of Pontiac, Mich.; Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Sprague, of Greenville, Mich.; Mrs. N. E. Dow and E. LeRoy Dow, of Baldwinsville, N. Y.; Mrs. E. G. Hadley, of Bradford, N. H.; Mrs. Monroe, Miss Monroe and Harry Monroe, of Dunkirk, N. Y.; Miss Mabel Breckenridge, of Hamilton, Ont.; and Charles R. Dow, of Boston.

After the ceremony a dainty luncheon was served, immediately following which the bride and groom took their departure accompanied by well wishes of everyone and the usual amount of rice. Mr. and Mrs. Stevens left for Detroit, where they embarked for a lake trip.

The bride is one of the most charming and popular of Toledo's young ladies, admired by all for her many excellent qualities. That Mr. and Mrs. Stevens have hosts of friends the avalanche of beautiful presents that were showered upon them testified. Thew nave the heartiest wishes of all for a long, happy and prosperous married life.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT.

Mrs. Cunningham Run Down by a Bicycler.

Yesterday afternoon while Mrs. J. Cunningham, living at 162 New York avenue, was stepping from the Robison Transfer Station, corner of Summit and Madison streets, she was struck and knocked down by a young man on a bicycle. The lady was picked up and carried into the transfer office, where it was found that her injuries were of a somewhat serious nature. She lay at the transfer office for several hours, and was finally removed to her home on New York avenue, where Dr. Root attended her. This morning she was reported somewhat better. The bicycler, on learning that the lady was badly injured, immediately mounted his wheel and disappeared.

FAIR WEATHER AHEAD.

A Girl Baby at Observer Hanner's House

Observer Hanner, of the weather bureau, will predict fair weather for at least a month, on account of his jubilant feeling over the arrival of a girl baby at his home last evening. Mother and babe both doing finely.

'TWILL BE A GO THIS TIME

Says Commander Squire, About the Ratification Meeting.

It will be noticed from an advertisement that appears elsewhere in the Bee that the local republican leaders propose again to tempt fate by calling an assemblage of the faithful t ratify the Minneapolis nominations.

Jim Ashley has that speech prepared three weeks ago, and he does want a chance to fire it off. It will be one word for Ben and two for Jim.

Then Tucker is anxious to explain why he bolted his instructions at Minneapolis.

Kent Hamilton is down for a speech, but like the lady who expected to be ill, Kent will not be in Toledo.

Geo. P. Waldorf may have something to say, although he is somewhat sick himself of the series of fizzle. There are 95 of the 100 guns still left, and the gun will speak at a dollar a word, if no one else will.

Its going to be a grand time entirely. W. I. Squire says the people will be here from a thousand miles around and those who expect to be present should apply for front seats at once.

Grandfather's hat will evidently cover all the loyal friends Benjamin has in this neck of woods.

Chicago, July 6.—The Chicago club has made a draft upon the Joliet club of the Illinois-Iowa league for the services of Decker and Connors, two of their star players. President Hart notified President Young of the darft yesterday and expects to secure the young bloods within a few days. According to the rules, Chicago must pay Joliet $500 each for the drafted men. Conners, who was secured for the Joliets at the close of the first season, had a batting average over 300 and stood high in fielding. Decker is a first baseman and a slugger. Joliet will perhaps set up a howl, but will have to let the players go. As soon as the players join the team a release or two will follow. Cooney may be turned loose and Canavan is down to go.

Tuesday, the first day of the Red Ribbon meeting, held at the Toledo Driving Park, the gate and grand stand will be free to ladies. The best races are booked for the first day.

Arrangements have been completed to have Rev. J. V. Updike hold meetings in this city, commencing July 10. A tent is being erected on two vacant lots on Bancroft street, near Vermont avenue, which will hold 1,000 people. Rev. Updike is considered one of the strongest of evangelists. He will be assisted at these meetings by J. E. Hawes, a first-class soloist. Rev. Updike's great characteristic is his earnestness in preaching the gospel, but he is distinguished for his wit, humor, pathos and eloquence. These meetings will be looked forward to with interest by a large number of Toledo people.

THE LAW AND THE LETTER.

What Everybody Should Know About the Property in a Mail Letter

A letter once mailed no longer belongs to the sender, but is the property of the person to whom it is addressed. Such is the postal law, but it is a law often violated by postmasters in small places, where correspondents are likely to be personally known to the postoffice authorities, and sometimes leads to curious complications in large ones where this is not the case.

Important business interests have been affected by the same law. A firm which had long been really insolvent had succeeded in keeping the knowledge from the public, and continued to receive money from investors, which the partners employed dishonestly for their own advantage. It was their intention to raise one more large sum of money, part of which was to be contributed by a business friend of one of them, and then leave the country with their spoil, and let their creditors shift for themselves.

But the wife of the business friend and the wife of the man who meant to victimize him frequently corresponded with each other, and the latter wrote a gay, gossiping letter to the former, in which she mentioned that her husband had been in poor health lately on account of business troubles, but that she trusted that their approaching trip to Canada would restore him.

Remebering, too late, that her husband had asked her to mention neither of these two facts, and fearing to vex him, she went to the postoffice to recall her letter. The postmaster refused to give it up. She could give no good reason for demanding it, and became petulant and irritated when he continued to refuse. He remained firm and the letter was sent.

The recipient showed it to her husband, whose suspicions it aroused. He made an investigation, and as a consequence the dishonest firm was broken up and both the partners arrested and punished.

Intercepted letters have long been a popular theme of drama and romance. A letter which could not be intercepted, but had to go in spite of the sender's express desire and entreaty, might offer an interesting variety.—Youth's Companion.

"John Joseph de Loubet, a rich American" (probably Joseph Loubet), who lately gave to Carpineto, the birthplace of Leo XIII., a statuette of his holiness, has received the freedom of that city. He was received five miles from the town by a deputation of the principal citizens, well escorted, and entered through a triumphal arch of flowers and draperies, to salvos of bombs. The next day he was lavishly entertained and departed leaving 20,000 francs for the poor.

ONE MASS OF SCALES

Afflicted 3 Years by Dreadful Skin and Blood Disease, with Intense Pain and Loss of Hair.

All Other Remedies Fail. Relieved Instantly and Cured in 4 Weeks by the Cuticura Remedies.

I have a few words to say regarding the CUTICURA REMEDIES. They have cured me in four weeks' time from a Skin and Blood Disease which I have had for over three years. At certain times, my skin would be very sore, and always kept cracking and peeling off in white scales. In cold weather my face was one mass of scales. When in the cold air the pain was intense; it would almost bring tears to my eyes, and my blood also being in a poor condition, with a loss of hair. I have tried every known remedy that was recommended to me, but it was of no use, and gave me very little benefit. So, hearing of your CUTICURA REMEDIES, I concluded to give them a trial. The first application gave almost instant relief. In a few weeks' time I found myself cured, and I am thankful for what they have done for me. Your CUTICURA REMEDIES are a blessing to those who may have the opportunity to use them. I can recommend them to any one.

IN A GRAVE YARD

Wilson M. Tyler Sends a Bullet Through His Heart.

Vincennes, Ind., July 6.—Wilson M. Tyler, one of the wealthiest bankers of Vincennes, committed suicide in the city cemetery. About four years ago a favorite daughter married Frank Rice, of Chicago. Shortly afterwards the young wife died. The father was stricken with grip and has remained despondent and disconsolate ever since. He made regular daily visits to her grave. This morning he drove out to the cemetery and sat down on her grave. He then opened his clothing, placed his revolver to his breast, fired and the bullet passed through his heart and he fell dead across her grave.

Native Christians are increasing in India, at least in the northwest provinces of Oude, for which we have statistics. There are 22,665 this year, against 13,264 at the last census. More than half belong to the Methodist Episcopal church. The Church of England has only 5,013 and the Roman Catholics 1,916.

In large or small amounts. Time from one to twelve years, and can pay all or any amount at any time.

The People's Savings, Loan & Building Co., 239 Superior st., Toledo, O.

A dead gypsy was buried recently in Weissensee, near Berlin. The hearse was followed by gypsies playing fiddles or clashing cymbals, the six oldest members of the clan beating tambourines. The burial was performed with the ordinary Catholic rites, but afterward the gypsies sacrificed a dog "to the moon."

SCHAUFELBERGER WON.

Findlay, O., July 6.—The democratic judicial convention of this district assembled here yesterday, with tow candidates in the field for the common pleas judgeship—W. J. Schaufelberger, of Tiffin, and Frank A. Baldwin, of Bowling Green. Mr. Schaufelberger carried off the honors by a vote of 92 against 79 for Mr. Baldwin.
